British and U.S. Citizens in Foochow Beaten by Chinese Mobs

ANTI-FOREIGN OUTBREAK IN FOOCHOW CITY

Number of British and U.S.
Men and Women Injured
During Riots

Churches, Schools and Hospitals Attacked by Throgs and Plundered

Foochow, Jan. 18.—The rising tide of nationalism in China reached a new stage of violence here Sunday when a number of British and United States men, women and two ministers were beaten by Chinese mobs, several of the victims later being dragged through the streets by their tormentors.

The uprising was the worst anti-Christian demonstration in the history of Foochow. Churches, schools, hospitals and foreign residences were ransacked. The riot was precipitated by Northern soldiers incorporated in the Cantonese army.

INSTITUTIONS PLUNDERED
All Roman Catholic churches and schools in the city were attacked.
Other institutions plundered included the Anglican and Methodist hospitals, the city branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, the Anglican Girls' School and the Blind Boys' School.

The demonstration had its forerunner Saturday when Fookien students broke into the Spanish Dominican orphanage, vicarage and church, drove out the nuns and priests and abducted the Chinese orphan girls there.

Foochow, China, Jan. 18.—The fury of the Chinese mobs was exhausted to-day and quiet reigned after the anti-foreign outbreak yesterday which resulted in the beating of several British and United States men and women and the plundering of much foreign property.

Among the foreigners who were attacked and had their residences looted were: Dr. H. D. Matthews and Mrs. Matthews and their daughter;
Rev. and Mrs. Wood and their daughter; and Miss Margaret E.
Baldwin, all missionaries of the Anglican Church. Other British victims were Miss Crabbe and Miss Holbrook.

U.S. CITIZENS BEATEN United States citizens who suffered from mob violence were Dr. and Mrs. Lewis and the Rev. and Mrs. Beard.

Others were threatened.
Several of those attacked were badly beaten and dragged through the streets.

The anti-Christian rioting began at 3 a.m. Sunday and continued until dark.

Foochow is about thirty-five miles inland on the Ninghsing River. It is one of the principal cities of Fookien Province, where anti-Christian feeling has been spreading for some time.

Shanghai, Jan. 17.—Evacuation of foreigners in Szechwan province was reported to-day to be proceeding systematically. British residents being reported leaving Chengtu, provincial capital, in groups of thirty at a time.

Word received from Hankow today said a mob had torn down the baricades around the Japanese concession there a few days ago.

The Japanese quarter was not molested during the demonstrations of January 3 which caused British and United States citizens to leave the city.

velopments by the Scottish organization in various parts of the Empire.

CUSTOMS INQUIRY IS TO BE RESUMED

Members of Commission Arrive in Vancouver; Session
Next Wednesday

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 17.—Members of the Federal commission investigating the custom service of Canada will arrive in this city tomorrow and the Vancouver sitings will be resumed Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. According to Major C.
E. Nash, attached to the commission staff, who arrived here last night, it will probably be two weeks before the commissioners complete their work in Vancouver.

When adjournment was taken just before the Christmas holidays the commission was engaged in investigating run-running out of Vancouver and Victoria, the entire proceedings of the commission being almost entirely confined to that question, but whether more evidence will be taken on that subject is not known. The matter of political campaign contributions may be investigated, but nothing official of the subject has been given out by Ottawa.

New Vancouver Harbor Board Starts Its Work

Vancouver, Jan. 17.—Vancouver's new Harbor Commission took over its duties this morning. The members met in the board's offices, took the oath of office and acquainted themselves with the personnel.

P. R. M. Russell, K.C., the new chairman, has been summoned to Ottawa at once, presumably to confer about the session's appropriations for port development. He will not be able to leave for about a week, however, as he has private business matters to clear up before going.

Arrangements have been made by the board to retain the services of Lt.-Col. G. H. Kirkpatrick, former chairman, although the capacity in which he will be employed has not been announced.

PORT WARDEN

Vancouver, Jan. 17.—Announcement was received this morning by Captain L. G. Dixon, acting port warden that Captain Carl Elisset of Vancouver had been appointed port warden here and would take over his new duties almost immediately.

The new Harbor Board was sworn in this morning. P. F. M. Russell being named chairman, with A. M.
Pound and George Hansul as commissioners.

NEED OF NEW COURTHOUSE STRESSED BY DELEGATION

The need for building a new Courthouse in Victoria was stressed by Charles J. V. Spratt, president, and Charles R.
Bishop, secretary, as a delegation representing the Victoria Liberal Association waiting upon Premier Oliver. Mr. Spratt and Mr. Bishop were armed with a resolution passed at an executive meeting of the Liberal Association in which the erection of a new Courthouse in a more suitable location was recommended. It was pointed out that for many reasons the present Courthouse is considered unsatisfactory and members of both the bench and the bar as well as others having business at the Courthouse have stressed the need for a new building. The present location is also deemed unsuitable. Another resolution presented by the delegates was one from the Victoria Liberal Association advocating action on the construction of the West Coast of Vancouver Island Road. Members of the delegation to-day stated that sympathetic consideration had been promised by the Government.

MARKET CONTROL LOOMS AHEAD FOR ALL MAIN FARM PRODUCTS: OTHER PROVINCES FOLLOW B.C.

Control of the marketing of all British Columbia's chief agricultural products looms ahead of the farming industry now as a result of the decisions of the B.C. Fruitgrowers' Association at their Kelowna convention last week. Before the Legislature completes its marketing legislation it will have provided for the extension of the marketing control system to all branches of agriculture, including tree fruits, berries, vegetables and dairy products, if the Okanagan growers' proposals are fully implemented.

While details of British Columbia's drastic new experiment with the handling of its farm products have yet to be worked out, it was made clear at the Agricultural Department that any legislation adopted this session would include not only the Okanagan Valley but the whole Province in its scope, and not only fruit growing but all other branches of agriculture, where growers favor it.

With this intimation came the announcement that this Province's plan of controlled marketing would be followed by similar legislation in Ontario and Nova Scotia, giving the entire fruit industry of Canada definite direction in the handling of its crop.
SEEK FEDERAL AID
With the three main fruit provinces working along similar lines of absolute control, the next move will be to approach the Federal Government and ask it for further legislation to make the provincial laws thoroughly efficient. The Federal Government will be urged to appoint a board of experts to keep in touch with all Canada's foreign fruit markets and advise the Canadian fruit industry on the needs of foreign buyers, so that the proper varieties and necessary quality of fruit may be shipped abroad.

COLD WAVE SWEEPS NORTHEASTERN U.S.

Eight Deaths Caused by Weather; Early Rise in Temperature Predicted

New York, Jan. 17.—Shivering residents of the northeastern states today greeted with joy weather bureau predictions of warmer temperatures after the coldest week-end of this season.

Six deaths, due to the cold, occurred in New York, while Boston and Philadelphia reported one each. A driving snow accompanied the cold wave.

Disastrous fires occurred in several cities as a result of flames being fanned by high winds.

A new cold wave is reported to be moving toward the Middle Western States from Manitoba, but weather prophets predict the temperatures there will not reach the sub-zero marks that accompanied the cold of last week.

them as "fantastic and ridiculous."

Tenders for a $6,000,000 bond issue were rejected by the Finance Department to-day. The bids submitted by bond companies were considered unsatisfactory by the department. These prices were the result of the flooding of the Canadian bond market by a series days. The Provincial Government has decided not to issue the proposed loan until the market rights into the Charles Chaplin-Lita Grey divorce and financial battle by laying claim to $1,073,721.47 in liens on income tax covering a period of the United States district court here.

New York, Jan. 17.—Charles Chap-to-day, but was still considered a sick man.

The comedian had fully recovered from a nose bleed which resulted from a fall out of bed Saturday night at the home of his counsel, Nathan Murkin, but Dr. Gustav Tieck, an attending nerve specialist, said he would be kept in bed for at least twelve days.

"He is still highly unstrung," said Dr. Tieck. "His mental and physical condition are both affected by his breakdown, caused by worry due to his domestic troubles."

AUSTRALIAN LABOR SEEKS NEW LEADER

Party Wants E. G. Theodore to Direct Its Course in Federal Parliament

Sydney, N.S.W., Jan. 17.—Coming to the conclusion Mr. Charlton, Labor leader in the Australian Parliament, is not strong enough to threaten the position of the Bruce Government in the country, the Labor Party has stirred political circles by announcing a shuffie designed to bring a former Premier, E. G. Theodore of Queensland, into the federal field as leader.

The first step was the resignation of a Labor member of the House,
Mahoney, representing Bailey, a safe Labor seat. It is taken for granted
Mr. Theodore will replace him.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD GEORGE YOUNG ONLY SWIMMER TO FINISH

Toronto Marvel Completes 22-mile Swim From Catalina Island to Mainland in Fifteen Hours and Forty-five Minutes; Sprints Last Fifty Yards and Walks Up Beach Without Assistance; Crowd Cheers Madly;
Veteran Channel Swimmers and Other Marathon
Swimming Stars Collapse and Young Alone Finishes; One Woman Stays in Water Nearly Twenty Hours and Another Woman Gives Up Mile and a Half Off Her Goal

Wilmington, Cal., Jan. 17.—George Young, seventeen-year-old crawl-stroke artist of Toronto, Canada, who "beat" his way to California to participate in the William Wrigley marathon swim across the San Pedro Channel, offset the chilling water of the passage with a flashing stroke that averaged fifty-four to the minute to win the deep sea Derby in fifteen hours and forty-five minutes.

Young alone succeeded in the field of 101 official contestants in the race, which started at 11.21 o'clock on Saturday morning on the isthmus on the northeastern edge of Santa Catalina Island.
Yesterday morning at 3.06 o'clock he gained the rock-strewn shores of Point Vicente, a short distance north of here.

Veterans of long distance and channel swimming fame fell by the wayside, but this youthful marvel, holder of the Canadian amateur long distance championship, continued his struggle and was taken from the water. Of the twenty-two women starters, Margaret Hauser, of Long Beach, Cal., and Martha Stager, of Portland, Ore., made the best showing, giving up at 7.20 yesterday morning, when they were six and six miles, respectively, from the finish.

The victory of the Canadian was hailed by experts as a triumph not only of wind and muscle, but mind.
$25,000 STRATEGY
When the ninety-six swimmers dashed through the surf and began to grind, the speed of Young's swimming quickly put him in the van with Norman Ross. He then put into effect the strategy which was to pay him $25,000. In the open water he headed northwest, taking cognizance of the heavy current which runs in from the northwest during the night.
This was the move which, although it added miles to his swimming, enabled him during the last stages of the race when even his head was felled the chill of the water and the pull of the flow, to spurt along with a minimum of effort at a fast clip.

THE REAL BATTLE
When almost within grasp of victory Young faced one of the most desperate struggles of the long swim.
The friendly tides turned on him when he was within a mile of land and he burrowed his head under with the brine and buckled down with all the strength remaining in his body.
A mile from the shore, the tide turned again toward the help he needed to reach the shore. As he swung strongly on his last strokes a crowd gathered on the shore cheering wildly.

Oblivious to the noise and the lights and fire ashore, the swimmer ploughed along at a great pace through the cluster of patrol boats, press boats, yachts and a hospital launch for which last there was no need.

Mother's Boy They Call Young And He Swam For Her Alone

Winner of Catalina Swim Tells Graphic Story of His Great Feat

Santa Monica, Cal., Jan. 11
(Associated Press).—George Young, the swimming world's hero, winner of the Wrigley $25,000 ocean marathon, told the Associated Press last night he had staked on the race his most prized possession, his amateur standing, for his mother's sake.
Other than her, he said, he had no relative and she was dependent upon him.

The Canadian boy is emphatically a mother's boy, and he is proud of it.
He said:

"I put everything I had into the race for my mother. It wasn't much, perhaps, but it was my all, my amateur standing and Canadian championship. I wanted to bring her to California.

"I got as far as Arizona on my motorcycle and when it broke down
I was nearly broke, too. A honeymoon couple picked me up and brought me out to California, but I do not know their name.

"As for the swim itself, my manager, Henry O'Brien, and I planned the strategy that won.

"We planned against the tides and currents, and we figured it would take twelve hours to make the swim."

NEW LEADERS CHOSEN BY MUNICIPALITIES

William Crouch Is Reeve-elect of Saanich; James Elrick Heads Reeveship Poll in Esquimalt; Oak Bay School By-law Passes But Saanich Plebiscites Suffer Defeat

Election for the office of Reeve of William Crouch in Saanich and James Elrick in Esquimalt were the outstanding features of the municipal elections on Saturday.

Oak Bay had previously returned all its officers by acclamation.

In Saanich William Crouch, last year councillor for Ward Seven, won in a straight contest from ex-councillor H. O. Kirkham, attaining the reeveship by a majority of 182 votes. The new reeve-elect polled 1,261 votes, his opponent receiving 1,079. The defeat of both questions up by way of referendum to the electors in Saanich created some surprise.

The water by-law and the improvement tax system both went down to defeat by decisive majorities.

In Esquimalt James Elrick, 1926 chairman of the school board, defeated ex-Reeve R. P. Matheson in a straight contest for the head office of the district. Mr. Elrick polled 454 votes, Capt. Matheson receiving 373, a majority of 81 for the new reeve-elect. Former Reeve Alexander Lockley took top berth on the list of council vacancies in Esquimalt.

In Oak Bay, with the entire elective slate, from reeveship to police commissioners, re-elected by acclamation, voters polled on the Monterey Avenue school extension plan which carried decisively. Out of 490 votes cast, 314 were in favor of action to enlarge the building, and 169 against such course. Five ballots were rejected. Herbert Anson remains in office as reeve for 1927.

IN SAANICH

Robert Macnichol, retiring from the post of Reeve of Saanich after a successful term in office, was placed on the list of council vacancies at the head of the polls in the school trustees contest. The results in Saanich polling were as follows:

PUGET SOUNDERS START PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN EARLIER

First Advertisements of 1927 Campaign Appear Next Month

With the largest budget in the history of the organization since its formation, four years ago, the Puget Sounders and British Columbians Associated, will carry on more aggressively than ever the campaign to attract Californians and people of the Southwest to the evergreen playground, and the first advertisements of the 1927 campaign will appear in the February issues of California motorist magazines and in March editions of the leading newspapers in California.

The circulation of the newspapers to be used by the organization this year will be approximately 1,500,000, and if each magazine and newspaper is read by an average of three people, approximately 4,500,000 people of the Southwest will learn why this is their logical vacation land. The advertising campaign is being conducted by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, Vancouver Publicity Bureau, the Bellingham, Tacoma and Everett Chambers of Commerce, while Port Angeles, New Westminster, B.C., Anacortes and Edmonds, as associate members, will also subscribe. The funds are raised on a population basis and the supervision of the expenditure is invested in a board of twelve directors made up of two from each of the six member cities. The Victoria members are R. H. Ker, president Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, and George L. Warren, publicity commissioner.

RESULTS SATISFACTORY

The results of the advertising have been highly satisfactory, shows a report made by Fred Crone, Vancouver, president of the association. California travel to Puget Sound and British Columbia by automobile has increased in the following manner:

Year.	Number of Cars.
1921	8,000
1922	14,000
1923	20,000
1924	25,000
1925	34,000
1926	38,000

An average of three people per car makes the total number of Californians who came by auto in excess of 100,000, while train and steamer travel has shown the same substantial increase. The number of visitors at Rainier National Park from California increased in this manner:

Year.	Number.
1920	2,200
1921	2,718
1922	3,750
1923	5,254
1924	11,911
1925	15,190
1926	16,000

The increase for 1926 would have been greater except for the condition of the roads during part of the season and because of the exaggerated accounts of forest fires.

In addition to the newspaper and magazine advertising, a provision is made for the necessary literature, maps, etc., and for the joint financing of information bureaus at the west entrances to Yellowstone Park to halt the diversion of tourists away from the Yellowstone Trail to Salt Lake City and Denver, and at Grant Lake, Oregon, where the Redwood and Pacific Highways meet for all northbound travel.

Definite plans to secure the active co-operation of the railroads and steamship companies as well as the tour and automobile clubs in California have been made. For several years the large advertisements in newspapers in Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Sacramento, Fresno, and other California towns, as well as in tour and golf magazines, have done much to attract interest in this section.

DOMINANT ADVERTISING

This advertising, which was the dominant tourist advertising appearing in California papers, created instant attention. Steamship and railroad companies co-operated wholeheartedly. For the first time the advantages and lure of Puget Sound and British Columbia were being represented in an advertisement in the travel section of the "Evergreen Playground" became known.

Results proved that it was good policy for those cities which had been spending sums individually in California, to join in advertising the attractions of the five sister cities. One extremely valuable by-product of the campaign has been the friendly co-operation and goodwill and new understanding which has grown up between the five cities, all within a two-hundred mile radius of one central geographical point, all enjoying the same summer climate and attractions. Of special interest is the friendly international aspect of two Canadian cities joining with American communities just across the line. The campaign, now in its fourth year, has been marked by the utmost good feeling, and not one conflicting opinion or discordant note has disturbed the functioning of this "Six Cities" campaign.

COBB AND SPEAKER TARRIED BY LANDIS, DECLARES JOHNSON

Chicago, Jan. 17.—The Chicago Tribune to-day said that Ean Johnson, president of the American League, openly charges that Baseball Commissioner Landis was responsible for tarring the reputation of Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb.

Breaking a silence that began last September when directors of the American League meeting in Chicago voted to give unconditional release to Cobb and Speaker, President Johnson declared that neither of the two would ever manage or play with an American League club.

Mr. Johnson, The Tribune said, declared he had accepted the "implied challenge" of Commissioner Landis to bars all the facts in the Cobb-Speaker baseball drama and would take the stand next Monday at the special American League meeting called by the baseball head. He said his testimony at that meeting would prove the American League acted to protect Cobb and Speaker, and that Landis alone was to blame for the cloud of rumors about their names.

CALIFORNIA GIVES CONGRATULATIONS TO GEORGE YOUNG

Sacramento Cal. Jan. 17.—A resolution congratulating George Young, youthful Canadian who swam his way to a fortune was adopted by the California State Assembly to-day without a dissenting vote. The resolution also felicitated Canada on having produced such fine example of athletic prowess.

MOTHER'S BOY THEY CALL YOUNG AND HE SWAM FOR HER ALONE

considering the tide and the drift in my favor.

WELCOMED SIGHTS

"The most discouraging period of the grind came when I was one and one-quarter miles from shore when the outflowing tide shoved me back, but in contrast to this, the light-house on Point Vicente and the flares set by spectators on the beach were the most welcome sights I ever saw.

Five times during the day and night I changed my course to meet the opposition of the tide."

The handsome but modest and unassuming youth then told of his struggles against a fifty-yard field of kelp 100 yards from shore.

"This wrapped itself around my neck and legs, but that only added to my determination to win, so I dug in," he said.

ON GEORGE!

"I had taken off my bathing suit when I was two and one-half miles from Catalina and I forgot that grease and graphite were my only covering as I rose out of the water at the shore, so I beat it back into the waves to my conveyer boat."

"You see, we just a covering of graphite over the grease before I put on my bathing suit to help keep out the cold."

"About seven miles out from the Santa Catalina starting point I had to swim through 200 yards of heavy oil. It gave me plenty of trouble. I had to keep my head up into the water to prevent the oil getting into my eyes, nose and mouth."

"Oh, there were plenty of rough spots, but I finally got to where I was going and to-day the oil effect I feel is a little soreness in my shoulders. The heat had returned to my body ten minutes after I left the water with a blue skin."

LOST FIVE POUNDS

"I lost five pounds during the race. Going into the race after training at Santa Monica, I weighed 177 pounds. I went ashore at Point Vicente weighing 172 pounds."

"My heart and pulse were normal five minutes after I boarded the conveyer boat at the finish."

"I never was discouraged at any stage of the game. I never figured I would have a quit. I was sure of my physical condition from the start and I was in good shape all the way."

"It might surprise some people to know the longest swimming I ever had done was between fifteen and eighteen miles. But from now on I'm not much interested in Channel swimming contests. I do believe, however, that with what I learned Saturday I could cut my Santa Catalina swim time."

"As to the English Channel, I never was interested in that."

"Of course, I expect to enter some swimming competitions in California for I'm not going to quit the game altogether."

Chicago, Jan. 17.—The Chicago Association to-day telegraphed congratulations to Mrs. Jane Young of Toronto, Ontario, upon "the great victory to your son, which is an honor to you, as a Canadian mother, as well as to him."

Young, Swimmer, Gets But $15,000 of $25,000 Prize

Toronto, Jan. 17.—George Young will receive $15,000 of the $25,000 prize for the Catalina Island swimming marathon, his manager, Henry O'Byrne of Toronto, receiving $10,000, according to local information. O'Byrne paid all Young's expenses while the swimmer was on the coast and a contract calling for a sixty-four split in case Young was not signed by the boy's mother. If he had lost, O'Byrne would have stood responsible for the expenses.

Four Children Were Burned to Death

Toronto, Jan. 17.—Four children, the eldest only four years of age, were burned to death in their home on Pellatt Street, Toronto, early yesterday when fire broke out in the absence of their parents. The victims were: Matthew, four; Josephine, 3; Loren, fifteen months, and Ellison, two months, children of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Jeffery.

The house was a two-story frame and rough cast building, and it was completely gutted. The fire is believed to have been caused by an overheated stove.

The parents were visiting friends a short distance away. Learning of fire, they returned to the house, but the father was prevented from entering the doomed building by police, though he made several efforts. The baby, Ellison, was sleeping in a carriage not far from the kitchen stove, which is thought to have started the blaze. The three older children were in bed upstairs. Firemen who entered the second story by ladders found the body of one of the children under the bed, the others in bed and the body of the baby in the carriage.

ANTI-FOREIGN OUTBREAK IN FOCHOW CITY

Amoy, Jan. 18.—Troops of the Southern or Cantonese forces, who recently took possession of the city of Fochow, forced an entrance to the Methodist institutional Church here on Saturday night and destroyed the equipment of that institution.

The church is located in the downtown district and is one of the largest in the city.

London, Jan. 17.—The Church Missionary Society here received a message from Fochow to-day stating that although all the missions here had been attacked by Chinese rioters, all the missionaries were safe.

A dispatch yesterday from Canton said:

"The anti-foreign demonstration set to take place here to-day by some of the leaders, was called off. The city is quiet."

FALSE REPORTS

Peking, Jan. 17.—Messages from foreign sources in Fochow to-day indicated agitation something like that in the Boxer uprising was being resorted to there.

The story that foreigners there were killing Chinese babies, which served to arouse the Chinese twenty-six years ago, was revived. A rumor was circulated, the message said, that Spaniards in Fochow had murdered Chinese children and about twenty bodies of babies were brought out of the nunnery in a decomposed condition.

The result was the attack on Sunday on the church premises there, which caused the priests and nuns to flee in disguise. Other foreign property was looted.

BRITISH CABINET MEETS

London, Jan. 17.—The British Foreign Office continues to view the whole situation growing out of the anti-foreign agitation in the Yangtze Valley as most serious and the Cabinet was called into session this afternoon to consider Sir Austen Chamberlain's latest reports from China.

The Government, it is said, intends doing everything possible to prevent a repetition at Shanghai of the recent violence and is continuing its consultations with the other powers toward that end.

Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Secretary of War, returned from the French Riviera to attend to-day's Cabinet meeting.

NEGOTIATIONS IN PROGRESS

The London Daily Mail understands the Government's view is that the spirit of nationalism will eventually become powerful in China and first steps therefore are being taken toward negotiating with what it is believed will become the main government of the country.

INFORMATION DISCUSSED

London, Jan. 17.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, spent considerable time Sunday in the Foreign Office discussing with the permanent officials the latest arrivals from Miles Lampson, British Minister to China, and Charge O'Malley.

The conversations between the powers at Shanghai are said to be proceeding normally. The Government is still awaiting O'Malley's full report on the Hankow negotiations, but a special Cabinet meeting was called for to-day, and Premier Baldwin came to London especially to consult Chamberlain and preside at the meeting.

TYRWITT AT HANKOW

It is announced Vice-Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt has arrived at Hankow and that the cruiser squadron now at Phaleron Bay, Greece, will proceed to Malaga and make further preparations for service in Chinese waters if required.

The Government had been watching so intently the negotiations at Hankow between Charge O'Malley of Peking and Eugene Chen, Foreign Minister of the Cantonese Government, that Sir Austen Chamberlain decided to remain in London over the week-end in order to receive any important advice quickly.

It was taken for granted the negotiations are continuing since Chen was anxious for the British banks at Hankow to reopen, because their suspension of operations was handicapping Chinese trade.

Mr. O'Malley went to Hankow from Peking last week to reach an understanding with Chen following the recent disorders in Hankow, in which Chinese mobs, allegedly incited by Cantonese elements, invaded the British quarter of the city, resulting in suspension of trade to a great extent and the departure of many members of the British colony. It has been stated Mr. O'Malley is not acting as a direct envoy of the British Government, since it is his desire to avoid the semblance of recognition of the Cantonese regime.

MISSIONARIES AT SHANGHAI

Shanghai, Jan. 17.—Forty-four missionaries, driven out of interior China by anti-foreign disturbances, arrived here to-day on the British steamer Suifu from Kuling, a resort near Kiukiang, 450 miles inland on the Yangtze River. Most of them are United States citizens. They evacuated Kuling under the personal supervision of J. H. Paxton, United States vice-consul.

New York, Jan. 17.—Communication with Hankow, cut off on Saturday, when service on all lines north of Kiukiang was interrupted, has been restored, the Commercial Cable Company announced to-day.

Early Vancouver Amalgamation is Now Proposed

Vancouver, Jan. 17.—"Vancouver is a city of 215,000 population, an area of nearly fifty square miles and a total assessment of about $300,000. The people here so willed."

This was the comment of Mayor Louis D. Taylor to-day upon the overwhelming vote accorded amalgamation on Saturday in the municipalities of Point Grey and South Vancouver.

With the city electors already recorded in favor of the merger, the mayor declared every effort should be made to carry out the wishes of the people with the utmost dispatch.

Mexico City, Jan. 17.—Special dispatches from Tapachula confirm reports that Bishop Diaz, secretary of the Mexican Roman Catholic episcopate, who was arrested last week, has been deported to Guatemala.

U.S. OIL FIRMS IN MEXICO RESTRICTED

Calles Government Refuses Them Permission to Drill New Wells

Tampico, Mexico, Jan. 17.—Oil companies here which did not comply with the new Mexican petroleum and land laws requiring application for confirmatory concessions by January 1, have been refused permission to drill new wells.

This news, received from the Mexico City representative of the Huasteca Company and confirmed by other concerns, has caused sensation as it will throw thousands of workers into idleness and cause great financial losses.

The telegram from the Huasteca representative said permits granted after December 31 were cancelled. Work will be suspended in the oil camps of the Mexican company and subsidiary concerns, where forty-six drills were ready to be sunk.

It is thought the companies will appeal to their respective governments and ask for provisional permits from the Mexican Government pending a definite solution by diplomatic negotiations.

DAWES GIVES NOBEL MONEY TO PEACE WORK

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Vice-President Charles G. Dawes has donated his share of the Nobel Peace Prize award for 1925 to the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations at Johns Hopkins University. His cheque for $3,042 kronen, or about $15,775, has been forwarded to Owen D. Young of New York, chairman of the Nobel Prize trustees.

Thus the Nobel Prize for a notable contribution to world peace has been dedicated to the cause of understanding of international relations. Mr. Young pointed out in a letter to General Dawes.

The Vice-President and Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, shared the 1925 Nobel award. General Dawes's recognition having come as a result of the Dawes reparations plan.

TOBACCO GROWING IN BRITISH COLUMBIA RAPIDLY INCREASES

Predicted 1927 Crop Will Total $2,000,000; Expansion in Okanagan Region

Tests to be Made in Cowichan Valley and Nanaimo Districts

Vancouver, Jan. 17.—Tobacco growing has been firmly established as a permanent industry of British Columbia within the past week. O. J. Brenner of the British Columbia Tobacco Products Company returned yesterday from Kelowna, where he paid out $15,000 as the final payment on the 70,000 pounds of tobacco grown on sixty-five acres during the 1926 season.

During the same week he entered into six-year contracts covering 1,500 acres, practically all of which will be planted during the 1927 season.

Most of this acreage is in the Kelowna district, where the start was made three years ago. Experiments at Keremeos, Coxton and Vernon have also been successful, and this year tobacco growing will be an important factor in all of those districts.

$2,000,000 CROP

Some idea of the value of this new industry to the Okanagan district may be realized from the fact the 1926 crop yielded profits to the growers varying from $125 to $225 per acre. From 1,500 acres on an average of $150, the clear profits to growers next year would be $225,000, which means probably $2,000,000 worth of tobacco will be grown in British Columbia during 1927.

SOLDIERS TURN FARMERS AND REAP SUCCESS IN MANY PARTS OF CANADA

Settlement Scheme for Veterans Brought Hardy Men to Till the Soil and Win Homes From Wilderness; With Foreign and Other Settlers They Are Making Agricultural Headway for Dominion

Thousands of Canada's former fighting men have seized the opportunity offered in many parts of the Dominion by the Soldiers' Settlement Scheme and are helping Canada in its strides towards agricultural prosperity. Commanding officers who led men to glorious victories during the great campaigns of the Great War and privates who followed them are now side by side engaged on rich productive farms which have been made possible by settlement schemes enabling them to turn to farming for a livelihood.

LAND DEVELOPERS BEST

It is generally recognized that by far the most important migration to Canada is that of those people who take up and develop our lands, and it can be fairly claimed that our own citizens who are similarly employed are of at least equal importance to the Dominion. They have the distinct advantage, over certain classes of newcomers, of needing no special effort to assimilate them into our national life, as they are part of it already. With them there are no difficulties to be overcome due to custom, social habits or language.

A study of the figures revealed by the 1911 and 1921 censuses gives a total of 1,728,921 immigrants as arriving in that period. The natural increase accounted for by the surplus of births over deaths is estimated by the Census Bureau as 1,150,659, giving a gross increase of population from these two sources amounting to 2,879,580. The increase in the number of farms in the Dominion in that period is 28,761. Again the figures are taken from the Census.

OWNS A CHAMPION

A Manitoba settler, W. J. L. Hepburn of Virden owns the champion milk cow of the Prairie Provinces. No. 21663 Lily Evergreen de Koll with a record of 26,014 lbs. of milk and 1,050 lbs. of butter in the year. Other soldier settlers hold outstanding positions in poultry raising, swine production and the other forms of agriculture. He also grows a few acres of potatoes each year and keeps some cows. During the last few years he has been particularly successful in raising a good share of first prizes at the Fall poultry shows. This man is not particularly strong. A visit to his comfortable home, however, will indicate the kind of success which attentive well planned effort in the little garden province of P.E.I. Needless to say, his wife is making a worthwhile contribution to his success.

Robert Cooper came to Canada from England at the age of sixteen. Previous to enlistment he worked for one year with a farmer in New Brunswick. After his discharge he worked for a further year for a farmer in Peel County, Ontario, and in the Fall of 1919 he purchased a 100-acre farm in that county through the Board.

This settler operates a dairy farm on up-to-date lines, starting with grade cattle he gradually has successively improved his stock. He weighs his milk and tests his cows and ascertains their exact returns. During the past summer his herd consisted of thirty head, including his wife. He determined to get into an accredited herd and last September sold his entire herd by auction and in less than a month had replaced them by twenty-two head of fully registered and accredited cows. He ships whole milk and his milk cheque approximates $450 per month. This total he expects to beat shortly.

For the past two years he has been renting an adjoining 100-acre farm. This year he threshed 3,000 bushels of grain, put up seventy-five head of alfalfa hay and filled a 12x34 silo. Daniel Collins was a doctor's messenger boy at Croydon, England, prior to coming to Canada fourteen years ago. Prior to the war he worked in lumber camps and on farms. After twenty months in the trenches as a sapper, he was badly wounded and as a result lost his right eye and is partially blind in his left. After a long period in hospital he was discharged in June, 1918, and later located a 100-acre bush in the Slate River district, Thunder Bay Northern Ontario, which he purchased with his own savings and war gratuity, coming to the S.S.B. for assistance to stock and equip it.

There were four acres cleared and small frame shack at the time Collins purchased the farm. Clearing in the bush was a difficult task for a sound man—more so for one handicapped like Collins. During the last six years he has cleared and broken nearly seventy acres, built a very comfortable frame bungalow, a splendid barn and stable and owns a good car. He has never failed to meet his payments and attributes his success to potatoes, milk, cows and vegetables and especially to the help of co-operation of his wife, who came to Canada from England to marry him in 1922.

Peter Swanson has a farm near Erickdale, Manitoba, which possesses all the difficult physical features of the average Interlake farm, and climatic conditions have been no kinder to him than to his neighbors. While farms are being abandoned all round him he makes his payments and is building up a good farm home. He has just completed a 32x64 stable, with concrete floors and mangers and with water laid on. This year his wife was thirty-five years old, his barley sixteen and his wheat sixteen and a half bushels to the acre, in a district where the average result was a failure. He attributes his success to mixed farming, planning his work, keeping his stiff tooth-cultivator going and the training he received as a boy in Wellington and Grey Counties, in Ontario.

Abraham Beaulac farms a long narrow river lot near Headingley, Manitoba. When he started operations in 1914 the buildings were poor and the land was small. His wife damaged his crops in 1921. June floods in 1922 destroyed seven acres of potatoes and considerable grain. Part of his farm was flooded again in 1923. To-day, in spite of these handicaps, Beaulac, in the place of almost worthless old buildings and a few acres of poorly worked land, has over eighty acres of well tilled land, in addition to hay land and pasture, a new and attractive stucco finished house on a full-sized concrete basement which overlooks the Assiniboine River, a large modern hen-house, machinery shed and granaries, and is looking forward to replacing his old stable in the near future. Cows, pigs, poultry, grain and potatoes, have all contributed to his success—the main factor, however, has been the sterling qualities of intelligently directed energy, thrift and stamina possessed by this French-Canadian and his wife.

T. Hampson left England for Canada in 1916. For three years he worked for farmers. Later he was employed at poultry work by the University of Saskatchewan. During the war he served for two years with the P.C.C.F. and later transferred to the machine gun corps. He earned the D.C.M. & M.M. in France and became battery sergeant major. In 1920 a half section was purchased for him in the Birch Hills District in Northern Saskatchewan. About fifty acres was cleared—the balance was bush. He keeps 150 hens, milks five cows and raises two or three litters of pigs each year in addition to growing from 120 to 150 acres of wheat. He has a farm to-day with an excellent set of buildings, fenced and cross-fenced and has 200 acres under cultivation.

His cockerels, pullets and settings of eggs find a ready market over a considerable portion of Northern Saskatchewan. For the past three years, he has taken first prize in the standing grain competitions and has had good success, exhibiting his pigs and poultry.

Mrs. A. Mikkelsen and her husband were Danes with a life-long farming experience. For eight years prior to the war they lived on rented farms in Alberta, being generally engaged in dairy work.

On Mr. Mikkelsen's discharge from the C.E.F. they were assisted to purchase a 32-acre farm thirteen miles northeast of Calgary. This farm then had about seventy acres under cultivation. Just as they were settling nicely started the father died in 1921, leaving a widow and eight children, the eldest of whom was a boy of sixteen. Since then Mrs. Mikkelsen has capably accomplished the difficult task of carrying on the farm with its heavy obligations and bringing up this large family. She has met her financial obligations—cultivated area is now 130 acres instead of seventy. Their dairy herd has increased to twenty cows and ten two-year-old heifers and they have a good line of horses and machinery. During this time the family's education has not been neglected. The eldest daughter has had a year at business college in Calgary. The eldest son has graduated from the Agricultural School at Olds and two other boys have put in a year at the Technical Institute at Calgary. The rest of the family are still going to public school in the district.

Progress like this under such handicaps is rare and indicates ability of no mean order. This family is a credit to the land of their birth and a splendid acquisition to the land of their adoption.

William Wood is a Scot who came to British Columbia in pre-war days. Returning again after the war he was assisted to establish himself on a forty-acre farm near Cloverdale, British Columbia. At that time, this farm, though all of it was arable, bottom land was not in very good condition. Some of it was run down and peaty and its carrying capacity was not high. Mr. Wood, however, knew its possibilities, and proceeded to develop them.

Starting with seven or eight grade cows, he at once set out to improve the fertility of the soil, and the production of his herd. As time went on he got hold of some good pure bred Holsteins from local breeders, and started culling his herd. To-day the majority of his herd are pure bred and his carrying capacity is a good deal higher. He is a member of the Langley Surrey Cow Testing Association, for the highest average production in butter fat for herds of less than thirty cows. He had an average production of 450 pounds butter fat per cow, during the year.

He grows four to five acres of potatoes each year, and has a nice flock of white Leghorn poultry. He has recently built a chicken house to accommodate 500 laying hens.

Christopher Girling comes from an English public school, and served with the "gunners" during the war. He is a lieutenant, at the time of his discharge he held the receipt of a pension for war disability. Coming to Canada in 1919 he started in to gain practical experience in Canadian farming methods prior to starting up for himself. In 1920 he purchased through the S.S. Board, a 100-acre holding in the Pemerton Meadows, British Columbia. At the time they took over the holding, there was a small cleared area, and no buildings, other than a small log shanty. The balance of the land was covered with a dense growth of hardwood and alder. Associated with him in his work were his brother, Mr. B. Girling, and their father. They went in pretty deep at the start, but by carefully planned hard work are making a success of their undertaking.

Each year they clear, and bring under the plough, an additional five or six acres of land, and to-day "Artilley" farm presents a far different appearance with its excellent buildings and well improved fields, which met the eye in 1920. They now have an attractive two-story log house, twenty-four by thirty-two and a four by six by six with silo. Dairying, live, beef, pigs and poultry are all made to contribute their share to the season's income. In addition, logging in the winter and some road work in the summer, bring in some ready cash.

They have not escaped setbacks. In 1921 Christopher Girling met with a serious accident while blasting, and on a couple of occasions, the Lillooet River has gone on a rampage and flooded their land. To protect their land they have built a levee, some hundreds of yards in length, receiving the loan of a pile driver and a small grant of money from the British Columbia Government to assist them. They have steadily improved their stock and to-day have fifteen cows of high average production. In 1925 they purchased an additional eighty acres which they operate in conjunction with the home farm.

They have had pretty hard sledding but to use their own words: "Now we are going to make good."

"HARD TO BEAT" SETTLERS BRITISH COLUMBIANS
O. J. Asprey of Renfrew, B.C., is a man of the pioneer type which goes into districts where the man who thinks only in "dollar economics" sees that the result is not worth the effort and in making good, shows that there is something higher in life than mere economics, and that difficult projects can be made to show surprising results.

With four years' war service to his credit, a sickly wife and four young girls, he moved to Renfrew, Vancouver Island, thirty-five miles from the nearest market. He built his dwelling and a barn from driftwood and logs, which he cut in the bush. He has reclaimed and cleared four acres of dense low bush, and slashed a further four acres. To realize what this means, one must know the British Columbia bush. At times their farm is isolated by flood water, and the children are sleeping with neighbors as they could not get home from school.

He meets every payment as it comes due, has ten head of cattle. The family make their own butter.

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

First of all we are going to fire our largest cannon at the beginning. It is a mother's fault if her baby is a poor sleeper! The kind of sentimentality which makes a mother pity her baby when she puts him in a dark room at night and leaves him so that he may sleep comfortably in his own bed, is the same kind of sentimentality which will make her OLD-TIME sanitary methods bring unhappy, fretful days. Now the insecurity of the hazardous "sanitary pad" has been ended.

You wear sheerest gowns, meet any and all social or business engagements in peace of mind... any time, any day.

This new way is called "KOTEX"... five times as absorbent as the ordinary cotton pad!

Discards as easily as tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You ask for it without hesitancy simply by saying "KOTEX" at any drug or department store. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk. Be sure to get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

KING'S DAUGHTERS AT ANNUAL SERVICE

Rev. Dr. Clay Speaker at 41st Anniversary Service Yesterday

The forty-first anniversary of the founding of the Order of King's Daughters was commemorated yesterday when the district branch held its annual service at the lecture hall of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Rev. W. L. Clay, D.D., and Rev. A. de L. Nunna, pastor of St. Mary's Church, conducted the service at which there was a large turnout of members.

Dr. Clay in his impressive little address referred to the anniversary and commended the order for the spirit of quiet service which prompted its accomplishments. Throughout the many years of its existence it had based its splendid work on the motto, "In His Name," and had lived up to it with unflinching zeal, and Dr. Clay commended the members on never losing sight of this motto.

The hymns sung were "Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult," and "The King of My Love, My Shepherd," and the order hymn, "Lead Now as Forth We Go."

Blind Heroine Weds Sightless Ex-soldier

A rather pathetic wedding took place at St. George's Church, Kemp Town, Brighton, England, recently when a blind bride married a blinded ex-soldier man. The bride was Miss A. M. Peters of Brighton, who lost her sight when a bomb exploded in Woolwich Arsenal in September, 1917. She received terrible injuries and was awarded the O.B.E. for her bravery at the time. The bridegroom was Albert E. Clewlow, who lost his sight while serving with the Scottish Borderers at Arras in 1916, and has since been at St. Dunstan's.

The season's greetings with success for 1927, was extended to the brothers, which Chancellor Commander J. M. Utteridge suitably replied to. Sister Carter was the recipient of a very beautiful white flag which was presented to her by Brother Harding, on behalf of Tel El Mahuta Temple 155, D.O.K.K., for her very willing services rendered them on many occasions. The brothers and sisters then sang "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," with three cheers for the sisters. Speeches were made by the officers. Ottawa, Jan. 17.—The Ottawa Senators strengthened their already sturdy position in front of the National Hockey League pack by defeating the Bruins of Boston 5 goals to 4 in a hard fought tussle here Saturday night.

It was in the opening period when the league leaders really won the match. After "Hooley" Smith had given them a goal advantage in less than two minutes from the start, the Senators continued to dominate the play. George Boucher netted the second for Ottawa by taking the rebound of his previous shot to trick the Boston goalie out of his cage with a feint and send the rubber flying into the net. Herberts then tallied for Boston on a tricky play. Frank Finnegan registered the third local lead near the period end on a lone rush.

The goal shots of Boucher and Finnegan appeared rather soft from the side line, and apparently the older Art Ross, who had been taking a similar view for immediately after the frame ended, he wired to his headquarters in the Hub town that Goal Tender Roberts, who is at present playing with the New Haven team of the Canadian-American League, be recalled for duty with the Bruins clan.

BOSTON IN COMMAND

In the middle stanza, George Boucher split the Bruin line to drive in his second tally of the match. Then Boston took command and by virtue of a perfectly timed combination attack, rammed two goals past Connell within a minute of each other, and chopped the local's goal lead down to one tally. A Clancy-Kilrea combination, however, registered another goal for the leaders.

In the last period the visiting line held the puck for the most part far behind the Ottawa blue line, but apart from a one-man rush on which Fredrickson scored, Connell was his old invincible self and turned the hard fighting Bruins aside.

MURRAY AURIEL

Montreal, Jan. 17.—Ariel Joliet provided his return to the N.H.L. after a one-game suspension for fighting, by scoring the goal which gave Canadiens a 1-0 victory over the Montreal Maroons before a capacity throng of 12,000 here on Saturday night. Four minutes after the start of the final period he broke up a Maroon rush at the Canadian blue line and sent down the ice, circled the defence and made no mistake with the twist of the wrist that flipped the puck into the net behind Benedict. It was a brilliant individual rally, and the deciding play of a tussle which teemed with similar spirited attacks.

Mother Hopes Her Hero Son Does Not Catch Pneumonia

Toronto, Jan. 17.—An excited widow mother waited all night at her home here for word from her only child, George Young, who was battling the cold and treacherous currents opposing the contestants in the Santa Catalina swimming marathon. Mrs. Young tried desperately to maintain her vigil, but towards morning she was forced to give in, and sleep claimed her.

Awakening about two hours later, she was notified by a reporter that her son had won the $25,000 prize. At first Mrs. Young was too excited to speak and when she sufficiently recovered her composure her first thoughts were for the welfare of her son as she exclaimed, "Oh, I hope George doesn't catch pneumonia." This was all that Mrs. Young would say at the time.

The house was full of friends who warmed around to offer congratulations, while a quick witted agent was there endeavoring to get the consent of Mrs. Young to sign a theatre contract for her son, to act in local vaudeville and touring shows.

Islanders Knocked Out Of Jackson Cup Soccer Competition

Saanich Thistles Administer 5-3 Defeat to James Island in Local Series

Four Teams Now Left in the Running; Burns of Thistles Performs Hat Trick

Saanich Thistles, Victoria Wests, Esquimalt and Victoria City will be the teams in the semi-final of the Jackson Cup series. James Island was eliminated by the Thistles on Saturday, taking a 5-3 defeat at the hands of the Saanich boys. The game was played at the Royal Athletic Park, where a sloppy ground, due to the snow and rain last week considerably slowed the play.

After being three goals down during the first half, the Islanders rallied and with the aid of two soft crosses tied the score only to have the Thistles register twice more and clinch the game.

During the greater part of the first half the Thistles had the play. The ground at the James Island end was in much better condition than at the other end where puddles of water made accurate play next to impossible. Windele sent in a beautiful centre for the Thistles' first count, Burns tipping the ball into the net with his head.

Burns scored two goals in succession after this, giving him that hat trick. His second was on a pass from Minnie. He planted a good shot behind Rodgers, the Island tender. The Thistle centre headed in a centre from Thomas to put the Thistles three up. Burns then scored the fourth goal for the only James Island tally of the half. After banging the upright with a hard drive shortly before, he swung one cap into the goal mouth. Harper attempted to clear but tipped the ball over his fingers. He was blocked by Tooby trying to recover and Ross lobbed the ball into an open net.

The Saanich lead was decreased another notch ten minutes after the commencement when Bissell tricked an opposing back and sent in a well placed shot to beat Harper. The Thistles displayed plenty of energy and Rodgers made a fine save on Windele's shot, tricking Burns's rush. Harper then scored the second goal for the Thistles. Tooby lobbed the ball in, striking the back's leg and rolling in for a score.

Excitement prevailed as prospects for overtime loomed. Burns tipped the bar with a driving shot and about ten minutes from time Windele lifted the Thistles into the semi-finals when he scored the best goal of the match. It was a whizzing shot from considerable distance, placed just out of Rodgers's reach. The Island goalie was in considerable distress with a sprained thumb, which he aggravated by accidentally knocking it against the goal post.

Minnie set the count at 5-3 when he registered from close-in just before the final whistle.

Windele, the now Thistle right winger showed up well. His accurate passing and driving shots had considerable in do with his team's victory. Millar and Crowe also played well, although the latter's kicking was often misdirected.

James Island stars. Alcock refereed. The teams were: Saanich Thistles—Harper; Kennedy and Price; Millar, Crowe and Candy; Winsor, Preston, Burns, Kelm and Thomas. James Island—Rodgers; Aldous and Rivers; Preston, Robb and Ross; Misset, Woolcock, Rigby, Seville and Tooby.

Winnipeg—Sam Davidson, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, will be in charge of the tour of New Zealand Wednesday to discuss the forthcoming tour of the Canadian soccer team in New Zealand. Premier Coates, who is a keen sportsman, wired Mr. Davidson yesterday asking that the conference be arranged.

"Beat" Way West To Compete in Great Swim

George Young and Companion Left Toronto on Motorcycle and Honeymoon Couple Picked Them Up Stranded in Arizona; Reached Los Angeles With Half-a-dollar; Born in Edinburgh and Came to Canada When Three Years Old; Belonged to Toronto Y.M.C.A.; Toronto to Give Hero Welcome Home

Toronto, Jan. 17.—George Young, seventeen-year-old water marvel, who won the Santa Catalina swimming marathon, started swimming when he was six years old. At eight years of age he came under the eye of John Walker, swimming instructor at the Granite Club here, and under him Young made such progress that when sixteen years of age he held four records and fifteen swimming championships. Now he is the holder of four Canadian championships, the 230 yards and 200 yards free style, quarter-mile and one mile. He is a long distance swimmer, and Walker claims that over one mile there is no man living who can defeat him.

Young is not only the greatest swimmer that Canada has ever produced, but the greatest swimmer the world has produced. "He didn't train a scrap, and that was the only thing against him."

WENT OUT ON A MOTORCYCLE

Young traveled to California with a companion by motorcycle. He was born in Edinburgh and was brought by his parents to this country when he was three years old. His mother lives in Toronto. Young is a member of the West End Y.M.C.A.

"I knew he would win if he could stand the cold water," Walker said last night. "Several times he has beaten the world's two-mile record, swimming in a tank, though a claim has never been put in, but he takes even better to outdoors."

Toronto, Jan. 17.—Civic recognition of George Young, youthful conqueror of the turbulent Catalina Channel, and of his widowed mother, who stayed at home and prayed for her boy's success, is foreshadowed in a resolution to be introduced to the Board of Control this week by Controller B. S. Wemp.

Upon receipt of the news announcing George Young's triumph in the Catalina Island swim, Mayor Foster wired the city's congratulations to the lad. Until Young sets a date for his return no date can be fixed for the reception.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, wired Young the following message: "All Ontario greatly interested in wonderful feat of endurance and skill in swimming contest. Heartiest congratulations on your great success. It brings added laurels to Canadian athletic sports."

Boston, Jan. 17.—A story of two good Samaritans who helped George Young, seventeen-year-old San Pedro Channel conqueror, to the Pacific Coast and victory, is told by Mr. and Mrs. J. Foster, young honeymooners from Quincy.

They picked up Young and his friend, William Hastings, on December 23, when their motorcycle trip from Toronto to Los Angeles for the Catalina swim seemed ended by dwindling funds and a broken machine a few miles from Little Rock, Ark.

The Fosters were touring in their car when they encountered the boys, who accepted the invitation to put the broken machine in the car and accompany the couple.

"The boys left us at San Pedro, where they expected to meet friends," said Mr. Foster. "George had just a half-dollar left out of his mother's stake when he said goodbye."

ROMANCE!

The clear moonlight night had turned to one of heavy low-hanging clouds threatening fog. The beach seemed and glowed with the headlights of automobiles and a great bonfire. Here was a man swimming across from a shore twenty-two miles away, out of sight. It seemed almost as though he were swimming out of the ocean itself into the circle of lights.

The romance of the situation caught the crowd and spectators began to jump up and down and bawl out at the top of their lungs. Swinging powerfully and slowly, almost casually, Young drew towards the goal, his head fixed on victory almost within his grasp. When almost on the beach, Young was carried back to sea but gave a remarkable demonstration of strength when he sprinted the last fifty yards before walking ashore unassisted.

When his feet touched the bottom and he walked out of the water, it was a great triumph.

GALLANT IN VICTORY

While Young's accomplishment stood out as a feat unrivaled in modern swimming history, the young Canadian, happy in his victory, gallantly stood aside to permit two women and a man to share the glory with him. The trio, Mr. Margaret C. Hauser of Long Beach, Miss Martha Stager of Portland, Ore., and Peter Meyer of Cincinnati, Ohio, found odds too much against them and were forced to give up at 4.15 a.m.

Daring and determination to complete the swim were reflected in the contest waged by the two female swimmers against the cold, especially throughout the night. Fame to come to the first woman prize over to span the passage and a $15,000 prize offered for the first female entrant to finish in the race were denied Mrs. Hauser when she was within a mile and a half of the mainland. There, what strength remained from fighting the frigid waters and a frigid current, was exhausted in battling through a heavy swell. Mrs. Hauser was in the water approximately 19 hours and 23 minutes. She came closer to the mainland than any of the other swimmers, having swum for thirty-four to thirty-eight miles in the 16 hours 54 minutes he was in the water, his trainer said. He swam the entire distance with a trudgeon crawl stroke, averaging from thirty-six to forty-four strokes to the minute.

COLD BLASTED EFFORTS

Cold, rather than fatigue, appeared as the greatest factor in blasting the efforts of the remaining ninety-five starters. Before the first hour had passed from the time of the starting gun sent the long line of swimmers into the water fifteen groups, but cramped and numbed, entries had flying from their conveying boats the single red flags—tokens of failure. More than half of the original starters had dropped out before sunrise.

Despite the popular belief of swimming experts that no Southern California natator would come anywhere near the end of the channel, two of this section's swimmers came within five miles of the mainland. The icy temperatures of the waters were felt by Seward D. Molloy of Venice, and K. F. James of Long Beach, but not until they were within five miles of the mainland. James had covered an equal number to come within four and a half. James was in the water 16 hours and 29 minutes, 3 hours 52 minutes more than Molloy.

Henry Sullivan and Charles Toth, grey-haired Massachusetts veterans, who succeeded in crossing the channel in 1923, found the going against the icy waters too much and they withdrew when they respectively had paddled nine and thirteen miles.

ROSS TAKEN OUT

Norman Ross, giant Chicagoer, who ruled a general favorite to conquer the channel, lay down in the water and was carried to shore by a tugboat. He was taken out at 1.73 a.m. yesterday after swimming thirteen miles.

What was declared to be the fastest swimmer, next to that of Young, Ross and Meyer, was done by Ethel Hurtle, nineteen-year-old New York girl, who pluckily stuck to a direct course although numbness gradually paralyzed her muscles. She covered a bit more than eleven miles in the 5 1/2 hours she was in the water.

Howard D. Chafee of Ventura, Mrs. L. E. Pourrier, tiny and plucky San Bernardino swimmer, Myrtle F. Hudson of Long Beach, and William E. Long of Santa Catalina Island, each swam in the neighborhood of fourteen miles.

Shortly after the finish of the marathon announcement was made by William Wrigley Jr. of the awarding of two special prizes each of $2,500 to Mrs. Hauser and Miss Stager because of their pluck in being the last two women to drop out. The last prizes, together with Young's $25,000, will be given to the swimmers at Los Angeles next Tuesday night.

Nanaimo—Owing to the unplayable condition of the Ladysmith ground, Saturday's Nanaimo Davenport-Ladysmith Coast League soccer game was postponed.

Canada In Front Rank As Producer Of Marathon Stars

The thrilling "crawl" of George Young, seventeen-year-old Toronto youth, across the icy San Pedro Channel in quest of the $25,000 prize, has again brought Canada into prominence as a producer of marathon stars. Young's feat, in conquering the twenty-two miles of turbulent water when the remainder of the hundred men and women entries quit the race, rivaled the performance of John Miles, young Sydney Mines, N. S. runner, who set a new world's record last year in winning the Boston A. A. Marathon in his first race over the twenty-six-mile course.

Pirates Draw With Services In Rugby Game On Wet Field

Score is Three-all in First 1927 Senior League Fixture; Ground Very Sloppy

College Intermediates Defeat Normal; Pirates and Brentwood Draw

Pirates and United Services rugby teams played to a three-all draw Saturday afternoon at the Willows in the first senior league fixture of the 1927 season. The field was a veritable marsh and for the most part the ball was dribbled from one puddle to another, and was so slippery that it could scarcely be handled.

"Neither team had any decisive advantage, and the back kept traveling from one end of the field to the other. The Pirates while on the twenty-five of the services, were awarded a free kick, and Fraser in a seeming impossible position hoisted the slippery pliskin over the cross-bar.

During the second half the Pirates were forced to take the defensive and had to make several safety touches. Retaliating, however, they dribbled the leather to the other end of the field, where the Services had hard work to keep their opponents from scoring. Only timely kicking on the part of the back kept the ball off their line. Following a line-out the Services took the ball again into the territory of the Pirates. In a spectacular run Lay smashed through the opposition and plunged over the line for a score. After the kick-off the play stayed around centre field, and Referee Campbell-Sanson's final whistle found the players in a loose scrum at centre.

COLLEGE WINS EASILY

Victoria College continued their winning streak by defeating Normal in the intermediate league last Saturday and won by 11-0 in the intermediate league. As a matter of fact the up-laid grounds were flooded with water.

Victoria College drove away to a good lead in the second half of the series by the victory. MacInroy, the Collegians' flashy five-eighths man, scored two of the students' tries on pretty interception plays, unaided. Hume, promoted from the scrum to the back division on account of his speed and the showing he made in previous encounters when he was a consistent scorer, scored the third try. One of the scores was converted, but the College refused to take the last kick at goal, from directly in front of the posts, for it would have given them a 13 point score and lead.

PLAYED TO A DRAW

On a field covered with a couple of inches of mud, Brentwood College and the Pirates intermeddled fifteen come together for the first game of the 1927 series. As a matter of fact the Pirates had the better of the University boys, as they went over the line twice, but the seeming try was disallowed, from the beginning of the game. The Pirates played one man short, when Prizelle, one of their fastest three-quarters, was carried off the field with an injured arm. Despite this handicap the green shirts more than held their own. The boys of the skull and cross-bones constantly took the offensive but the Collegians' back division worked like a charm and they made gains out of seeming losses. Smith, the speedy inside left three-quarter, went over for the first count. The kick did not add the extra points, and the score remained three nothing till the end of the first half.

In the second period the play increased in speed, and the Pirates were in the most part battling around their opponents' twenty-five and fifteen yard lines. Hunnings, after a smashing run, reached the touchline, but the ball when grounded, was booted, and no count could be taken. Although the green-shirts were rather disheartened at their failure to score, they did not add the extra points, and a few minutes to go they fought hard for a tally to even the score, but the ball when grounded, was booted, and no count could be taken.

The Brentwood line and fell on the pig skin on the extreme right, his kick although a beauty missed the bar by inches, referee Simpson's final whistle found the score three all.

GOLF, FOOTBALL

Six Goals Scored By Walsh, Of Bristol City

Sensational Performance Given by Player Against Gillingham; Newcastle United Remain at Top of the First Division; Derby Sees Hostile Demonstration When Referee Reverses His Decision; Sunderland Bracketed With Burnley as Runners-up; Crowds Smaller

London, Jan. 17 (Canadian Press Cable).—Fifty-five thousand fans, the largest crowd of the day, gathered at Bramall Lane Saturday afternoon and saw an interborough contest between Sheffield United and the Wolves result in a two-point victory for the former.

The game thus confirmed the opening match of the season, when on the Wednesday's ground these two teams met and fought to a three-two win for the Blades.

The weather on Saturday affected attendances in the league football games and almost everywhere the "gates" were below the average. The aggregate was placed at 610,000.

Victoria Rep Rugby Team Picked to Face Vancouver Saturday

The Victoria McKeechne Cup rugby team to face Vancouver on Saturday was announced to-day by the selection committee. The game will be played at the Willows Park, starting at 2.45 o'clock. It will be the final McKeechne Cup match here this season.

The local squad will lineup as follows: Fullback, Bendroit; three-quarters, Webster, Caviness, Fraser and Stagg; five-eighths, Stanger; half-backs, Maclean and Goodard; forwards, Gregor, Pemberton, McDonald, Carlyle, Mawhood, Pedden, Watson; spares, McMillan, Putnam, Grubb, Burr, Pendray, Florence and Excellby.

The encounter at Derby was somewhat spoiled by a hostile demonstration by the crowd against Referee Leg. The riot occurred at the opening of the second half. Buchan, of Arsenal, had headed in a goal from a centre by Hoar, but Referee Leg pointed for a free kick, presumably on the ground of "offside." But when the ball was placed and everything set for the kick, the referee, without consulting the linesmen, reversed his decision and pointed to centrefield, thus awarding Arsenal their goal. The action was received with much hooting and demonstrative disapproval.

RETAIN THEIR LEAD

Newcastle United retained their lead in the first division by virtue of their victory over Aston Villa at Villa Park, the score standing 5-1. While they were bringing home the laurels from the Midlands, Sunderland, their near neighbors, were likewise gaining points at the expense of another Midland club, West Bromwich, whom they defeated on the Wednesday by 4-1.

Sunderland had become bracketed with Burnley as runners-up to Newcastle, for Burnley were able to pick a draw out of their game at Cardiff, no counter being scored in the contest.

All the London clubs are grouped, running seventh, eighth and ninth, in the order Tottenham, Arsenal and West Ham. The Hammers were the only one of the trio to succumb yesterday, going down before the onslaught of Leicester City. Both the Spurs and Arsenal was away from home.

SCORED SIX GOALS

Walsh, of Bristol City, in the Third Division created something of a sensation in the city's match against Gillingham when he recorded six of Bristol's nine goals against four in return. The total of thirteen goals in this match is the season's highest aggregate.

In the Second Division the feature game was at Middlesbrough, where the Chelsea Pensioners played a scoreless tie. The game did not affect Middlesbrough's leadership of the division, as they were away from home in the second period, where Portsmouth ousted Notts Forest by a fraction in goal average.

COMMITTEE INQUIRY All these matters will be discussed before the Agricultural Committee of the Legislature shortly. Meanwhile the Government will wait until the fruit growers of the interior come to present their views to the members of the House. On the recommendations of the Agricultural Committee the Government will, if the fruit men, the Government's legislation will be based. Details of the new agricultural experiment are still very much in the air at the fruit growers' convention in Kelowna has only set out the broad principle that all the fruit and vegetable crop should be handled by a board of control. It is certain, however, that the Government will not favor legislation which would affect only the Okanagan fruit and vegetable industry. In fact, Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, will confer with Fraser Valley dairymen during the next few days and discuss with them the advisability of setting up a board of control to handle the dairy output of the milk districts tributary to Vancouver.

BROAD POWERS

The proposed Okanagan board of control, it is expected, will control all the fruit of the Okanagan, the Kootenay and the Lillooet district and, in addition, the vegetable output of these districts. If any other fruit district wishes to put its affairs in the hands of the board it will be able to do so. Already Mainland and Vancouver Island strawberry growers are considering the advisability of fitting up with the control system through the Okanagan board. Vegetable growers in other districts who wished to do so would be able to operate through the central control board. It is thought that while the central board could efficiently handle the fruit and vegetable output of the whole Province or as much of it as voted to come under its supervision, the dairy industry should have a separate board of its own. It is with this in view that Mr. Barrow will meet Mainland dairymen shortly.

GROWERS' OWN PLAN

It was emphasized at the Department of Agriculture that the board of control system is the proposal of the fruit growers themselves and did not originate with any outside agency. As such it will go before the agricultural committee of the House during the next few days. Of their Kelowna convention the growers rejected the idea of a shippers' agreement, and insisted instead that the Legislature arrange a growers' marketing system through a board of control. Two members of the board would be appointed by the growers and the chairman would be named by the Government.

New Head of Service Club. Goes in by Acclamation; Other Officers Chosen

At the annual meeting of the Gyro Club held to-day at the Chamber of Commerce, Archie Wills was elected president by acclamation. Mr. Wills had served the last year as vice-president of the club.

Arnold (Bun) Trevitt was elected to the vice-presidency, while the following directors were elected: Sidney Chivers, Cyril Baker, Art Kerr, Aubrey Kent and Dr. Charlie Mess. William Hudson and Oliver M. Prentice were unanimously re-elected to the secretaryship and treasury respectively.

The newly elected officers will be installed at a banquet to be held at the Empress Hotel on Saturday night. International president, Clarence Loughhead, of Calgary, will be the installing officer. Following the installation the Gyro Club will indulge in dancing with Gyro Charlie Hunt's orchestra providing the music.

Reports received from the various committees and officers showed that the Gyro Club had spent a very successful year.

ORPHANAGE WORK

Gyro Chivers reported on the orphanage work done at the Protestant Orphanage. The new playground was a great boon to the children, he said, and a survey is now being made of the grounds to find the most suitable place for a playground. Gyro Fred Bartholomew, who had charge of the arrangements for the William Heugan concert, reported a substantial sum raised, which was the amusement tax, which was collected at the pageant "Ivanhoe" and which had been held in obedience to the request of the trustees of the club to be used solely for charitable purposes.

Gyro Charlie Hunt and his orchestra were thanked for their service to the club.

Gyro Archie Muir, William Hudson, Charlie Mess and Arthur McNeill were mentioned as "one hundred percenters," none of them having missed a luncheon or business meeting during the year.

The club will hold another bridge tournament this evening at the clubrooms.

The Gyros will send a letter of condolence to Jesse Longfield and a wreath to the funeral of Mrs. Longfield. The late Mrs. Longfield had been a great friend of the Gyros and her voice had been heard many times at functions of the clubmen.

DELANEY IS TO FIGHT FEB. 25

New York, Jan. 17.—Tex Rickard to terms with Pete Delaney, manager of Jack Delaney, for the French-Canadian's participation in the promoter's heavyweight elimination tournament for selectivity of champions to fight Gene Tunney. Delaney's first match will be on February 25, probably with Jimmy Maloney of Boston.

In announcing his agreement with Delaney and Rickard, said completion of his plans for the Maloney battle awaited only the acceptance of the Boston fight, which Delaney had signed a blanket contract to box under Rickard's promotion. The promoter and Rickard also have discussed a fight for Delaney with the winner of a bout between Paulino Uscudun and Knute Hansen.

Royal Purple Meeting—The Order of Royal Purple will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, January 18, at 8 p.m., when there will be several initiations. All members are urged to attend.

LABOR MEMBERS TO FORCE BALLOT ON CAMPAIGN INQUIRY

Will Insist That House Ballot on Advisability of Fund Investigation

Labor members of the Legislature will continue to press for a full investigation into political campaign funds, they indicated to-day.

"We want all angles of the campaign fund question investigated," R. H. Neelands, Labor member for South Vancouver, declared. "If the motion which we have filed, asking a particular investigation, is ruled out of order we shall appeal to the House against such a ruling, as we do not intend to let the matter drop."

"We feel that an investigation will be good for the whole public life of the Province."

Sooke

Sooke Harbor, Jan. 17.—The annual reunion dinner of the Sooke branch of the Canadian Legion was held at the Belvedere Hotel on Saturday evening, the dining-room being gaily decked with Union Jacks, ensigns and code flags. The tables were tastefully and artistically decorated by the hotel management, Messrs. Robillard Bros., to whom great credit is due for the excellent manner in which the event was planned and managed.

The toast for "The King" was called by the chairman, Comrade P. W. LeP. Taylor. Other toasts included "Our King," "The Legion" and a silent toast for "Our Fallen Comrades." After the dinner the Veterans took part in songs and choruses. Soloists included Comrade Taylor, Fago, Buckley, Hardy and Butler and card stunts by Comrade Robillard.

The singers were accompanied by Mr. Atfield, to whom the Legion expresses its thanks.

The evening's festivities closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the King."

On January 18 in the Knox Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society, there will be a meeting held which will be addressed by Miss Laura K. Pelton of Montreal, the subject being W.M.S. All will be welcome.

Miss Felton has been spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. McBride.

Mrs. Bywater and son of Seattle are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Muggford.

Sheffield, Eng. Jan. 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—Thirty new cases of smallpox have been reported in field, bringing to 123 the number of cases of smallpox reported within a week. The outbreak is confined almost entirely to the industrial portion of the city.

RACE BIDS TO BE OPENED BY CITY COUNCIL

Offers For Horse Racing Privilege at Willows to be Made Public To-night

City Makes Progress on Industrial Drive; Constant Committee Meetings

The seals on three sets of tenders received by the city for its horse race concession at the Willows will be broken in an open council session to-night. So far no one, including the Mayor and Council, are aware of what bids have been made for the privilege. This is the first year that the racing concession has been let by public tender, and also the first time that the use of automatic betting machines has been insisted upon by the city.

The opening of the tenders will be the chief business before the council in its regular session. Other affairs, dealing mainly with negotiations in the city's industrial drive, will be dealt with in committee at the close of the regular session.

To be laid before the council at its meeting is a formal letter of invitation from the Vancouver Board of Trade, setting out the details of its 1927 Oriental trade mission and inviting the city to join in the expedition.

The Native Sons of Canada, Victoria post, ask attention to the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation in a letter addressed likewise to all public bodies in the city. A joint meeting is called for later in the month when preliminary discussion will be given to the plans.

Requests for ten days will continue to reach the City Hall, being referred to the finance committee on the same terms as last year. Eighteen days would be the limit, the city can make it so, it has been stated.

A petition from residents in an outlying portion of the city for a sidewalk in place of a board walk is another communication that will be laid before the council to-night.

The Friendly Help Association requested a grant of $7,000 from the city, in aid of the work for the year. The same grant was made last year in return for welfare work done by the association on the city's behalf.

The status of all grants has not yet been defined by the 1927 council, some opposition being voiced at the last regular session to the present system, wherein a considerable total is asked from city coffers for a great number and variety of purposes yearly.

CANADIAN SCOTTISH JUNIOR PIPE BAND

Boys' Pipe Band and School For Pipers Being Formed by 16th Battalion

Victoria is shortly to have a school for pipers. Under the leadership of Pipe Major Alexander Wallace, who served as a piper in the European war, the Sixteenth Battalion Canadian Scottish junior pipe band is being formed, and a school for pipers will be started in connection with the junior pipe band, which will tend to keep up a supply of pipers for the senior pipe band of the battalion.

The majority of the boys who were members of the former Victoria Boys' Pipe Band under Pipe Major Wallace will become members of the Sixteenth Battalion Canadian Scottish junior pipe band, which has been organized headed by an executive committee of prominent local citizens, F. A. McInroy of the Royal Trust Company, H. E. Boorman of the British Columbia Bond Corporation, C. P. Hill, R. B. K. Ker and Cecil Frenkel.

The committee has been engaged in the formation of the junior pipers and has succeeded in obtaining for the boys a set of drums and chanters. The boys will be uniformed by the Sixteenth Battalion, which will provide them with white shell jackets and kilts, sporrans, hose tops, etc., while it is anticipated that friends will aid in equipping the boys with pipes. A room will be provided for the Sixteenth Battalion Canadian Scottish junior pipe band and for the school for pipers in connection with it, at the Armies Pipe Major Wallace will teach the boys and when they become proficient in piping they will be granted diplomas signed by the officer commanding the battalion and members of the council.

During last summer the boys pipers rendered valuable aid to the city in the entertainment of visitors. They paraded to the city hotels, the four-star motor camp, Crystal Garden and other places and gave concerts. This met with considerable success and it is the intention of the Sixteenth Battalion Canadian Scottish junior pipers to repeat this entertainment of visitors on a more elaborate scale during the coming summer.

CANADA HOLDING BRITISH MARKET

Canada is strongly entrenched in the British market generally, according to Douglas S. Cole, Canadian Trade Commissioner to the West of England, South Wales and part of the Midlands, who is here to-day interviewing local producers at the Chamber of Commerce.

"For the twelve months ending September, 1926, Canadian trade with Britain shows a favorable balance of $28,000,000 in Canada's favor," Mr. Cole said. "The development of the Canadian export trade has been fourfold in the last twenty years. Shipment of Canadian tobacco to England have increased over 100 per cent, the last year and now total over $1,800,000 a year."

Besides the staple products, such as grain, cheese, butter, fruit, pianos, washing machines, breakfast cereals, rubber footwear, lumber shipped from Canada there is also a good trade to be worked up in fish oil and meat, Mr. Cole added.

Los Angeles, Jan. 17.—When the time comes to air the magisterial difficulties of Charlie Chaplin and his wife, the former Lita Grey, in the divorce courts, the case will be tried on "the facts and the law" and with "decency and cleanliness," if the attorneys for the film comedian have their way.

In a statement the attorneys representing the actor to-day said they had "carefully considered" the sensational charges contained in Mrs. Chaplin's complaint and that their

"FLESH AND THE DEVIL" VIVID DRAMA OF MODERN EUROPE AT THE DOMINION

Blonde Charmer of Screen and Famous Star From Europe Make Ideal Lovers in Scenes of Romantic Warmth

One of the world's most seductive screen charmers—being made violent love to by the champion lovers of two nations—this is the unique combination of the screen in "Flesh and the Devil," which plays at the Dominion Theatre.

Greta Garbo, blonde charmer of the screen and famous star from Europe, will know forever the difference between American and European loveliness as a result of her role in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture—"Flesh and the Devil," by the great European dramatist, Hermann Sudermann.

One of her screen lovers is John Gilbert, hero of "The Big Parade,"
"The Merry Widow," and famous for his romantic roles—the other is Lars Hanson, the "Swedish Barrymore."

These three form a strange triangle in the new picture, a vivid drama of modern Europe, filmed by Clarence Brown from "The Undying Past," by the great European dramatist, Hermann Sudermann.

It is a gripping story, based on sociological conditions in the old world, hanging on traditions of love and marriage, and with Miss Garbo in the role of a seductive modern

Circle whose beauty and charm lures men to ruin. John Gilbert plays one of her lovers, and Hanson the other —who marries her to precipitate one of the most powerful dramatic situations ever portrayed on the screen.

perience that a mother-in-law is no joke."

"Three Little Maids," London Success, is Playhouse Offering

Malcolm St. Clair's Production of "The Show-off" on Screen

Reg. Hince offers "Three Little Maids," one of the most useful of the English musical comedies.
The cast to be seen in this production is as follows: Reg. Hince, Will Marshall, Eva Payne, Vivien Combe, Roberta Balcom, Doreen Davis and Harold Bechtel. As much of the music as possible will be used "I'm a Lady," "Girls, Girls, Girls,"
"What's a Girl to Do?" "A Real Town Lady," "The Fish in the Sea" are a few of the numbers. The plot concerns the efforts of Lord Cheyne (Harold Bechtel) to save the "Three Little Maids" from having to go out and earn their living. He enlists the services of his Cady Cupid (Will Marshall) and his butler, Hobbs
(Reg. Hince). What these two do to upset and distort his plans must be seen to be appreciated. Many bizarre situations result, but everything turns out happy in the end.

In the early days of the picture business, when the movies were commonly referred to as "galloping tin-types," it was the rigid policy of the Biograph Company—one of the pioneer film organizations—not to give its players any kind of publicity.

Claire McDowell, motion picture veteran, who has one of the important roles in Malcolm St. Clair's production of "The Show-off," now showing at the Playhouse, is authority for this startling information.
In those days, Miss McDowell explained, "they simply tried to sell the trademark, 'AB,' a Biograph picture. There was no cast announcement at the opening of the picture and no programme publicity.
Our names were absolutely unknown to the public."

Flippant, Feathery "So This is Paris" At Variety Theatre

Story of Newly Wed Paradise
Lost and Regained

Ernst Lubitsch's production for Warner Bros., "So This is Paris," featuring Monte Blue, Patsy Ruth Miller, Andre Beranger and Lilian Tashman, at the Variety this week.
"So This is Paris" is the story of a newly-wed paradise lost and—after much fun, fast and furious—regained!

It is a fantasia of fashion, frivolity, smiling lips and aching hearts. It is flippant, feathery, flaming, French.
Three hundred beautiful ladies glitter through it! The final scene which pictures the midnight revel—beyond doubt the climax of all Charle-ton scenes, and the Charleston is the clown of all dances! One cannot be down-hearted while the Charlestone-ers are doing their stuff, to the moaning, screaming, rattle and bang of the negro jazz orchestra!

"So This is Paris" from beginning to end is a big-chaser! It is founded on "Revelation," the classic Mel-hac and Halsey farce of the French stage, and has been produced with that smart lightness of touch that characterizes Lubitsch's "Kiss Me Again" and "The Marriage Circle."

Doris Kenyon Has Featured Role in Columbia Picture

"Mismates" is Screen Version of Byron Fagan's Stage Play

The Columbia Theatre feature will be "Mismates," Doris Kenyon's latest First National vehicle, which Charles Brabin directed for an Earl Hudson unit in New York. "Mismates" is the screen version of Byron Fagan's stage play of the same title and has been filmed on a lavish scale.

Doris Kenyon and Warner Baxter have the featured roles. In the cast are Philo McCullough, Mae Allison, Charlie Murray, John Kolb, Cyril
Ring, Nancy Kelley, Maude Turner Gordon, Charles Eyer and many other well known screen players.

One of the high lights of this picture is a jewel parade the like of which has never been shown before on the screen. A score of the most beautiful artful models in New York were secured for this scene, and the display of feminine pulchritude and dancing jewelry is one of the features of the picture.

"Family Upstairs" Hilarious Comedy On Coliseum Bill

Clever Story of Home Life by Harry Delf

Another hilarious comedy and another that comes with a big reputation as a laugh-getter will be at the Coliseum this week when Ed. Redmond stages "The Family Upstairs," the clever comedy of home life by Harry Delf.

Joe Kemper is in the masculine leading role and the comedy will provide a fine part for Ed. Redmond in the comedy character lead, while Jack Cassidy has a good part as "Willie,"
the son of the house.

As the mother of the said family,
Mrs. Guy Goddard, a popular Victoria actress, will have a strong comedy part, and Eileen Allwood has the delightful part of Louise Heller, the daughter of the house, who is much lectured by her mother on the subject of advantageous marriage.

Violet Taylor as Mrs. Grant is another fine part and others in the cast include Mami Delys and Madeline Hae.

A new schedule of prices at the Coliseum is advertised.

All-British Night At Crystal Garden

The "All-British Night" in the Winter Sunday band concert. The ninth of the series and semi-final of the 16th Canadian Scott's band at the Crystal Garden proved quite popular last evening. The band, under bandmaster Miller played exceptionally well. The applause was generous throughout, and a large audience was present. Among the numbers that found particular favor were the "Albion," "Grand Fantasia," the
"Henry VIII," "Three Dances," the
"Mikado," selection; the Highland Patrol, "The Wee Macgregor," and Ragan's "Grand Military Tattoo."

Another popular number was the well-executed cornet solo, "Holy City" (Sullivan), by Bandsman William Davidson, who, in response to the unmistakable requests, gave a charming lullaby.

The soloists on this occasion were Mrs. P. G. Aldous, and Charles Conyers, both singers meeting with good success. Mrs. Aldous has a charming contralto voice of beautiful quality. She sings with true musicality instincts, and she created a sense of high regard for what she accomplished. Her singing of the two numbers "Lovely Night" (Thomas) and "O Lovely Night" (Landon Ronald), was full of warmth and impression, which were again revealed in her recall number, "Shepherd's Cradle Song," by Arthur Somerville, given with much fervor and fine vocal perception. Her songs were enhanced by the obligato of the talented young cellist, Mary Buckler. Charles Conyers possesses a most pleasing baritone voice, which he uses with taste and skill. His tones are round and smooth and he knows how to reach the ears of his listeners, who brought him to the platform with two further songs "Dyna" (McGill), and "A Fat Fat Feller With His Mammy's Eyes" (Gordon), in addition to his two numbers "Lola" and "Ah! Tho' the Silver Moon Were Mine," both by the admirable English song writer, Hermann Loehr. Mrs. Clifford Warn, as usual, accompanied the singers spon-dily.

LON CHANEY STARS IN "THE PENALTY" SHOWING AT CAPITOL THIS WEEK

Has Part of Legless Human Fiend and Shows Wonderful Ability in Convincingly Playing Difficult Role

An actor will cheerfully cut off his beard or shave his head if it's needed in his role. They asked Lon Chaney, who has the part of the "Blizzard" in "The Penalty," which opened to-day at the Capitol Theatre, to get rid of his legs!

He did it. He is legless in the picture, stumping around with the agility of a permanent cripple. Perhaps the physical suffering involved helps him in effecting the demoniacal scowls that are necessary to his part, for he is as thorough-going a human fiend as can be found in fact or fiction. In order effectually to disguise his lower body, completely hiding his legs from the knees, it was necessary for him to have his legs strapped back, so that he walked on his knee pads. So severe was the strain that he could endure the torture of the vice-like harness not more than twelve minutes at a time. He had then to get his legs out, restore circulation, and submit to more suffering time after time.

It is a tribute to his wonderful ability that so difficult a role could be so convincingly carried out.

A supporting cast of exceptional worth, including Claire Adams, Kenneth Harlan, Charles Clary, Ethel Grey Terry, Edward Trehou, Milton Ross and James Mason, appears with Chaney in this stirring picture.

YACHT WILL COME HERE ON HER WAY TO ARCTIC WATERS

Schooner Northern Light Will Collect Zoological Specimens For Field Museum

Chicago, Jan. 17.—The new yacht Arctic, which will brave Arctic seas to collect Kodiak and Polar bear and other zoological specimens for the Field Museum, is ready to take the water. She will be launched Wednesday at Oakland.

Present at the launching will be John Borden, Chicagoan, who is financing the expedition and has had the vessel especially built for what will be his third Arctic voyage. The Northern Light is due to leave San Francisco May 1 and proceed to Victoria, B.C., on the first leg of an 8,000-mile journey, to well beyond the Arctic Circle. The expedition plans to hunt the giant Kodiak bear there, move on to hunt Polar bear and walrus and spend September collecting moose and mountain sheep in Kenai Peninsula. A two-masted auxiliary type wooden schooner, the Northern Light is 123 feet over all and of 360 tons, powered by semi-diesel engines and manned by a crew of fifteen. She will be under the command of Mr. Borden, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Borden and five friends.

Winnipeg, Jan. 17.—Abraham Nilanidson, a thirty-five-year-old wanderer, who has viewed the inside of many United States and Canadian jails, and is a champion "rider of the rods," is recovering from his latest adventure in the provincial jail here. Starting on an Eastern tour, he secured a firm hold on the pilot or cow catcher of the fast Imperial Limited.

With snow piled around him, his beard covered with ice and his overalls frozen to the engine, he was found when the train reached Oakbank, Man., fifteen miles from here. It was 25 below zero when he started on his trip.

Returned to Winnipeg, Abraham appeared in city court this morning and after unfolding a weird tale of adventure, he was sentenced to thirty days in jail. He had no complaint to make.

INCREASE SHOWN IN SHIPBUILDING

Shipyards Throughout World Have Laid Keels For Vessels Totalling 1,933,027 Tons

For the first time in three years an increase is shown in the volume of the world's merchant shipbuilding on which work has been commenced according to a statement just issued by Lloyd's Register of Shipping.

The report covers returns from all maritime countries for the quarter ending December 31 last. The figures compiled by this agency show that the gain over the previous quarter which ended September 30, 1926, is 83,000 gross tons. According to this report shipyards throughout the world have laid keels for vessels totalling 1,933,027 tons, of which 151,635 tons are under construction in the United States.

Italian shipyards have 239,776 tons under construction, which is 23,000 tons less than the total reported in September, but this volume of construction kept that country in second place. German yards, which were reported in fifth place in the September report, have increased the volume of construction so that this country now ranks third, with 21,062 tons under construction.

WHEAT POOL NOW PROTESTS CHARGES

Appeal to Grain Commissioners Regarding Vancouver's New Elevator Rates

Calgary, Jan. 17.—Alberta wheat pool has wired a protest to the Board of Grain Commissioners reiterating its arguments against new elevator charges in Vancouver which it is claimed would cost the farmers $100,000.

"We cannot see the justification for the increased rates," said George H. McIvor, western sales manager for the pool. It is possible the new Vancouver Harbor Board will not put the rates up. The increase permitted is one and one-quarter cent per bushel against one cent per bushel on straight grade, tough, damp or wet grain for receiving, elevating, shipping, storing and insuring. The rates for mixed grain is raised from one and one-half cents to two cents.

Norwich, Conn., Jan. 17.—The weekly payroll of the Thermos Bottle Company, amounting to between $5,000 and $6,000, was taken by two armed men, who held the superintendent of the company and an accountant here yesterday as they approached the factory office. The bandits fled in an automobile.

SUNRISE AND SUNSET

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Jan. 17 (By R. P. Clark & Company).—The market was a mixed affair, motors and industrials selling off, while some of the carriers with merger prospects sold around new high levels. Oil responded moderately to further accumulation, while the automotive group was undoubtedly affected by the price-cutting by the Locomobile Company as well as the decreased sales reports.

There were numerous spot sales in the list, such as International Cement, Radio, Cons. Gas, International Harvester and American International Corporation, which bore evidence of liquidation.

Week-end developments as a whole were quite featureless, except where affecting selling issues but while the market reflected a heavy turn over the distinctly irregular tone is no doubt due in good part to prevailing ideas as to coming annual figures, and for the present at least the market will probably continue as a trading affair with shifting operations from some of the industrial and motors into the rails and oils which are acting more impressively.

New York, Jan. 17 (By R. C. Bond Corporation's direct Wall Street wire).—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: With some issues pushing into new high ground on the movement, simultaneously with declines to new lows in other sections of the list, stocks were bewilderingly irregular at the start of the week. New shares were heavy, apparently due to the liquidation of trading lines bought preceding the New York shows.

Steel was also subjected to considerable selling, but broke out of the market in the afternoon, and the market was lifted. This influence was particularly noticeable in the railroad list where investment buying came in conjunction with the demand for various issues wanted to consummate merger projects. Talk of buying for control by R. & O., accompanied a sharp advance in Reading, while the strength of Lehigh Valley, Wheeling and Lake Erie issues and Western Maryland was generally attributed to the activities of the Loeve interests.

Unsettledness was created in the general market during the first hour by weakness in General Motors which was pushed for sale in large volume, dropping to 147. Professionals concentrated pressure on this issue because of the corporation's retail sales statement for December which showed a total of 52,373 cars against 101,229 in November and 44,129 in December, 1925. However, this poor comparison was explained by President Sloan, as due to the sales drive made in November in the Detroit divisions. Taking the two months' total sales for December, this poor comparison was explained by President Sloan, as due to the sales drive made in November in the Detroit divisions. CHAPTER VII

She lived in a tiny flat in a quiet backwater off Notting Hill Gate and she went to and from the office by bus, sometimes going out for a walk on Sunday, sometimes spending it in the park with a book. With her mother's small income and her own salary she was quite comfortably off, though sometimes the future raised its head and looked at her with a sharp question in its pert eyes. "What will you do when you are too old to work?"

Her answer to that question was to save all she could, and although once she had allowed Mr. Gurney to make a little investment for her, which turned out very satisfactorily, as a general rule she kept her money in a post office savings account, and it was one day when she was on her way to pay in five pounds that she met Nicholas Gaunt face to face.

He had drawn up to the curb outside the post office in a long, low racing car, and they met together at the swing door, their hands touching as they both made a movement to open it.

And Gaunt said mechanically, "beg your pardon." But he glanced at her as he spoke, and their recognition was mutual.

Then Gaunt said: "My God, it's Jennifer."

And there was a sob in Jennifer's voice as she answered brokenly and ungrammatically: "Yes, it's me."

And then they stood and looked at one another silently till an irate third person asked with sarcasm if they had bought the post office, and Gaunt took Jennifer gently by the arm and drew her to one side. "Come and have some tea with me, I must talk to you. Wherever we go."

Jennifer shook her head. "It's too late for tea, it's past six."

His eyes grew impatient. "But I want to talk to you. I haven't seen you for—how many years?"

"Five," cried Jennifer. "But that is your own fault," she added quietly. "She tried to get me to go to the office, but I have to pay some money in. The office will be closing soon."

He let her go. "I will wait for you," he said.

He went out and stood by the car, and presently she joined him. She was very pale and she looked tired, and she was wishing she had worn her best hat.

"Let me drive you home," Nicholas said. He spoke with agitation. "Where do you live? Not Kilburn now? Let me drive you home."

"I can get a bus at the corner," he frowned. "You mean you do not wish to tell me where you round the park?"

She hesitated, looking at him wistfully. He had changed very little, she thought with a pang, and wondered if he could truthfully say as much for her. He was bigger and broader, and under his soft felt hat she could see grey in the hair above his temples, and she remembered that he was five years older than she, and that her thirtieth birthday was past.

A policeman came towards them. "You can't leave that car here, sir."

Gaunt touched Jennifer's arm. "Please come, he said, and this time she silently obeyed.

When they entered Hyde Park he turned sharply to the right and drove down to the barrier by the Serpentine, where he stopped in the shade of some trees. It was early June, and there was a wonderful youthfulness and freshness over the world. Somewhere in the glory was reflected in Jennifer's eyes too as she turned and looked at him.

And Gaunt said, as he had said that afternoon in Timpelmeester's five years before: "Well, you're even prettier than I had remembered."

There was a little silence before Jennifer answered. "I am surprised you have remembered at all."

She wanted to hate him, but she could not. She wanted to be angry, but she could not be that either. So many times in imagination she had pictured just such a meeting as this and what would happen, and now it had come to pass the years were wiped away in a single flash, and her only emotion was a deep contentment to be with him again. She had considered five years a great time—and it was but a day.

"I have thought of you every day since we last met." Then he laughed and asked bitterly, "But you do not believe that?"

"I do if you say so."

"It's the truth," he said somberly. "I sat with both hands tightly clasped, staring ahead of me very much as he had done the day he came out of church with his bride on his arm; then he broke out abruptly:

"Are you married, Jennifer?"

"No."

"I am," I was at the church."

"The crimson blood rushed to his face."

"You were there?"

"Yes." She could not trust herself to look at him. "I stood outside in the crowd."

"And what did you think?"

She shook her head silently, and he asked again hoarsely: "Have you been loving me very much all these years?"

She made the effort twice before any words came.

"I've tried to."

And he answered: "I've been punished more than even you could wish."

"I'm sorry," she whispered, with pale lips. "Yes, she was sorry. She knew now that she had never wanted him to be unhappy, badly as he had wounded her."

The sun was rapidly setting and the breeze blew chilly across the water.

"I must go home," Jennifer said. Gaunt turned the car about. "I suppose you will not trust me sufficiently to tell me where you are living?" he asked bitterly.

"I will tell you if you wish to know," she said, and gave him the name and number of the tiny flat in the Notting Hill backwater.

"I will drive you part of the way home," he said, and as on that other occasion five years before when they had driven together in a taxicab, he stopped at the end of the road.

Jennifer got out and stood for a moment looking at him. The sunshine had quite gone, and now they saw one another through a pearly grey light.

"There is so much I want to say to you and I cannot," Nicholas Gaunt said, and he answered with a faint smile, "I am all right. I've forgiven you long ago." It was the truth, but she had never known it until now.

She waited a moment, but he did not speak and she turned and walked slowly away.

It was a month before she saw him again, a month during which her heart and senses seemed almost straining for the sound of his voice and his step.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Um's Umbrella

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate (By Howard R. Garis)

Said the Fox to the Wolf one day when it looked like rain:

"What would I be doing with a wooden toothpick?"

"Have you got a wooden toothpick?"

"What would I be doing with a wooden toothpick?"

"Have you got a wooden toothpick?"

"What would I be doing with a wooden toothpick?"

"Have you got a wooden toothpick?"

"What would I be doing with a wooden toothpick?"

"Have you got a wooden toothpick?"

"What would I be doing with a wooden toothpick?"

"Have you got a wooden toothpick?"

"What would I be doing with a wooden toothpick?"

"Have you got a wooden toothpick?"

very clever. Yes, there goes Um!" he added as he saw the little wooden woman rolling into Uncle Wiggily's bungalow. "Well, soon eat now."

Um had rolled along instead of walking, as she had no feet or legs. Neither did she have any hands or arms, but she got along just as well without them.

"Are you sure we'll eat?" Hungry asked the Wolf, who, with the Fox, was hiding in the bushes near Uncle Wiggily's home.

"You see Um has gone to visit the rabbit. Probably she has gone to borrow from Nurse Jane Puzze. Wussy a yeast cake to make some molasses pudding. Anyhow she will soon come out. When she does Uncle Wiggily will open the door for her. We will hide down near the bottom of the steps and when the door is open we'll leap in, get Uncle Wiggily's ears and, at the same time, bite some slivers off wooden Um to make toothpicks."

"Very good!" said the Wolf, though it sounded very bad. Then the two hungry chaps waited for Um to come out. The little wooden woman, wife of Boppy and mother of the Wiggilings, had really gone in Uncle Wiggily's bungalow. But she went to get some salt, not a yeast cake as the Fox thought. And when Nurse Jane had given Um the salt, and the little wooden woman was about to roll along home, Uncle Wiggily looked out of the window and said:

"Why, it's raining!" and so it was. "Rain won't hurt me," laughed Um. "I'm made of wood—I'm neither sugar nor salt!"

This should be one of the fortunate, stimulating days that bring good luck, according to astrology.

There is a sign of great promise for those who deal in real estate and the prophecy that even in Winter there will be great activity.

In many cities plans of magnitude will be carried out, it is forecast, for 1927 is to be a year of tremendous accomplishment. Good luck should come from dealing with elderly persons, while this rule prevails. Generosity and kindness are likely to be prominently manifested, even by those who are usually crabbed.

Labor should feel the effects of a more favorable planetary rule-to-day when there is likely to be activity in new projects.

This should be a lucky day for those who seek employment. Under

ORE SHIPMENTS OF STEWART MINES SHOW BIG GAINS

Stewart, B.C. (By Mail)—Actual commercial shipments from the Portland Canal districts, aside from the output of the Granby Company's Maple Bay mines, has been confined to five mines. These, according to the Portland Canal News, are the Premier, the Porter-Idaho, with 167 tons; the B.C. Silver, with 730 tons; the Prosperity, with 50 tons; and the Riverside, with 215.5 tons of concentrates. The Outland Silver Bar shipped three tons for experimental purposes, and Bacon & Munton, leasers of the Terminus, shipped three tons of high grade silver just before the heavy snows started in order to help finance their winter operations.

Last year the Porter Idaho shipped 182 tons, but the returns from that were not so high as will be received for this year's output, although the price of silver has dropped.

Among the smaller properties, the output of the Riverside is rather sensational, since in 1925 only thirty-five tons of concentrates were shipped from this mine. The output here for 1927 is bright for an output not only in increased tonnage of concentrates, but in higher price. In addition this mine will probably send out a considerable amount of crude ore this coming year.

B. C. Silver has given indications of entering the permanent shipping list. An output in 1926 of 730 tons as compared with eighty tons in 1925 tells the story.

Prosperity made only one shipment of thirty tons netting $6,500. This mine has now been taken over by the Premier Gold Mining Co.

Premier, whose success has stimulated the development of other properties, continues to grow. The milling plant was doubled early in the year and it is reported that 430 tons of ore are now passing daily through the mill. The aerial tram, the longest operating unit in the world, is kept up to full speed, delivering more than double the amount of ore to the wharf than the capacity for which it was built and guaranteed. Without having the official figures at hand it can be safely said that shipments of ore and concentrates for the past year will be 35,000 tons, as compared with 19,210 tons in 1925. Last year 22,624 tons of ore went from this mine to the Granby smelter. This year the amount will be about 34,000 tons. The balance of the product goes to the A. S. & R. smelter at Tacoma.

The B. C. Silver also ships to Tacoma, but the Porter-Idaho and Prosperity sent their ore to Trail.

Aside from the Premier production the district shows shipments for 1926 of 323 tons of ore and 218.5 tons of concentrates, as compared with 1925 of 430 tons of ore and thirty-five tons of concentrates.

Langford, Jan. 17.—Her many friends will be very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Henry Pike's father, Mr. John Ross of Ladysmith, on Saturday. He was well known throughout the district having frequently visited his daughter, Mrs. Pike of and cheese. They can home grown vegetables, fruits, fish from the sea, and cure their own bacon. Mrs. Asprey has regained her health and the children rank among the highest at school.

Fred Batchelor and his wife come from England. After four years' war service, Batchelor married and brought his wife back to Happy Valley. There he took up a sixteen-acre holding half of which was rock, with only two acres cleared.

Since then he has more than doubled his cleared acreage, diversified a creek to give him more land. He keeps four good cows, two brood sows and a small flock of poultry. He has met all his payments as they came due, and this year bought additional land adjoining.

This man's success is due to the ideal way he and his wife co-operated, and shows that it takes more than an agricultural area cramped by the most difficult of clearing, to stop some men.

Frank, G. Rump of Sperling near Vancouver, B.C., had a distinguished war career. He won the M.C. and bar, as a lieutenant and was A.D.C. to Brig.-Gen. Ormond, 9th Canadian Inf. Bde.

Returning from overseas he and his brother-in-law, Mr. Sendall, started up in the poultry business on a twenty-acre holding, and have made wonderful progress during the last few years. In the early days of their co-operation, Mr. Rump went to sea to earn ready money for the ranch. Today "Arandee" Ranch needs the undivided attention of the two of them.

From small beginnings they have now some 1,500 hens, and some time ago installed a very up-to-date large incubator. Last year they raised 35,000 baby chicks, all of which were sold, except those needed to maintain and increase their own flock. This Spring, they expect to raise 50,000 chickens, a very large proportion of which amount is already sold. British Columbia has twice as many birds entered in record of performance work, as their next competitor, Ontario, and the "Arandee" ranch have entered 500 birds this year, a larger number than any other breeder.

F. G. White had eight years' farming experience in Ontario, two of which were spent at O.A.C. Guelph. On his discharge from the C.E.F. he took up a 150-acre farm in the dry belt near Ashcroft, B.C. Needing irrigation, in the winter of 1920-21, he, in conjunction with another soldier settler, took out 70,000 feet of lumber.

In 1922, he had three miles of his irrigation ditch completed. Twice since that date he has had the ditching experience of seeing a cloudburst fill and wash out part of his ditch, fill the rest level with a shaly mixture, exceedingly difficult to dig out.

His wife is a splendid help to him, when seen last Fall, she was mowing the alfalfa crop while her husband was busy repairing damage recently done by a cloudburst.

To-day he has serviceable buildings, fifty head of cattle, poultry, etc., and forty acres under irrigation. This family is making good, on a difficult farm in the face of what the average man would consider heartbreaking bad luck.

A. Williams of Haney, B.C., is an Englishman who came to Canada some years before the war, and was employed as a blacksmith and machinist.

He took up a ten-acre holding near Port Haney in 1919. At that time there were about three acres cleared on the place and in grass and the land was wet and the buildings were bringing a high price just after the war, and Williams started out to grow berries and raise chickens. Rump spread through his flock and wiped it out almost completely and, in addition, the bottom dropped out of the berry market, by the time his small fruits were bearing. Naturally he went behind, and his position during the first three or four years was difficult in the extreme. Undaunted he started up in poultry raising, and by careful and systematic work he has achieved success in the face of heavy difficulties.

To-day he has about five acres cleared—all of which is under drained, a comfortable new house, permanent poultry houses for 1,000 birds, brooding accommodation and all necessary equipment including a 2,400 egg incubator. He has built up a good reputation and his baby chicks today sell as far East as Northern Ontario. For the last three years his net revenue has been around $2,500, and last Summer he purchased a Sedan car.

J. Chalmers is a Scot, who was an interior decorator before taking up farming. He also took up a ten-acre holding in the Port Haney District, on which he has made a success of poultry raising. He runs a 3,000 egg incubator, has breeding capacity for 5,000 chicks and maintains a flock of 1,500 birds for which he has erected the necessary standard equipment. A large number of his flock have been under official R.O.P. test for the last few years, and to-day Chalmers and his wife are soundly established settlers.

C. R. Fetterly took up a three-acre farm on which there were no buildings in 1918. Since that time he has developed this farm into a good dairy unit. He has done a good deal of underdraining, put up a good house and erected an up-to-date barn with cost-efficient, stable, litter carriers, milking machines, silo, etc. By careful selection he has built up a good grade herd of twenty cows, all of whom give over four per cent. butter fat, and give over 400 pounds of butter fat during a lactation period. He is a good dairyman, who has reason to be proud of his single handed achievement. He is married, has a couple of fine kiddies and is to-day renting additional land.

W. Blackburn was established on a thirty-acre mixed farming holding in September, 1920, at which time there were twelve acres under cultivation. Since that time he has brought most of the balance of his land under cultivation and improved the fertility of the whole of it, erected good buildings, he got together a good herd of livestock and made his farm pay good dividends.

M. J. Callens and his wife came to the Okanagan Valley from Belgium, prior to the war, he worked out as a farm hand.

Returning from overseas he purchased forty acres of good bottom land at M. J. B.C. fifteen acres were arable at that time, and the remainder heavy bush, which has since been completely cleared by the settler, and his family. Starting with a good grade Jersey cow, he has gradually built a paying herd. His main sources of revenue, have been from cows and hogs. In addition to developing his farm and building up his livestock, he has erected a comfortable house and a large modern hay and cow barn.

David Taylor was established in 1920 on a ten-acre fruit ranch. There were nine acres under cultivation, of which seven were planted in fruit trees.

The lot had been neglected. Taylor, however, started right in building up the land and has been making improvements ever since.

His fruit crop in 1920 was 325 boxes of apples.

His fruit crop in 1921 was 850 boxes of apples.

His fruit crop in 1922 was 1,200 boxes of apples.

His fruit crop in 1923 was 1,200 boxes of apples.

His fruit crop in 1924 was 1,200 boxes of apples.

His fruit crop in 1925 was 1,640 boxes of apples.

His fruit crop in 1926 was 900 boxes of apples.

His 1926 crop would have been his largest had not more than half his apples been frozen on the trees.

He does not believe in having all his eggs in one basket and acquired some additional land and started to build up a herd of cattle.

He now has seven milk cows, half a dozen pigs and some poultry; grows clover or alfalfa between his trees and has plenty of manure to spread each year to fertilize his orchard.

He and his wife are both hard workers, and making a good, through, careful planning and diversification.

FARM CHAMPIONS SEEN IN VANCOUVER

B.C. Agricultural Exhibition Held in New Building of David Spencer Ltd.

Advance of Province in Livestock and Other Branches Shown

Vancouver, Jan. 17.—The fifth floor of the new Vancouver department store of David Spencer Limited is the scene this week of an unusual event—a British Columbia Agricultural Exhibition. The show was opened to the public at 2 p.m. to-day.

Included in the exhibition is practically a view of the agriculture in British Columbia, from the growing of tobacco to the raising of purebred dairy cattle.

At a luncheon noon to-day Hon. S. P. Tolmie, M.P., as guest of honor, delivered an address, his subject appropriately being stock records of British Columbia.

OXFORD JANET THERE Pretoria, Oxford Janet, world champion Jersey cow, arrived in Vancouver yesterday morning from Armstrong, B. C., to be a star of the exhibition. It was her first view of a big city, but the clatter of street cars did not worry her. Neither did her trip up five flights in the big freight elevator. Escorted to her box stall, Janet settled down as comfortably as if she were in her own stall at home.

Many other aristocrats of British Columbia's livestock population were already in the show room prepared to make their bow to people of the city at 2 p.m. to-day. A large contingent came in from the Fraser Valley Saturday. This included cattle, sheep, swine and hens.

LUNCHEON GUESTS Prominent among the guests at the luncheon at noon were: Mayor Taylor and members of the city council of Vancouver and the chief magistrates of nearby municipalities. The remainder of the company of 125 guests was composed of exhibitors and representatives of various agricultural associations. Government experts who will take an active part in the proceedings throughout the week are, among others: A. W. Fennell, provincial agronomist, and by Gouding, representing the Provincial dairy commissioner; J. R. Terry, provincial poultry commissioner, and Arthur Morton, Tominion sheep and swine promoter.

Dr. Tolmie, in choosing as his subject the records won by British Columbia in the field of agriculture, did so with a view toward stimulating the interest of the people in the development of the Province along these lines. It was with precisely similar thoughts, declared C. Spencer, that the firm had undertaken to carry through the exposition, embracing every form of farm activity and the production of high quality material, whether in livestock or fruit and vegetables.

Albany Mine to Run 200-Foot Tunnel

Stewart, B.C. (By Mail)—The Albany Mining Co. Ltd. of Vancouver, has arranged for the extension of the Thompson tunnel on the property for a length of 200 feet. The tunnel, after crossing the Leckie vein, will be run easterly as a drift on the Copeland vein, which carries shoots of high-grade silver-lead ore as well as ore of millable grade. At twenty-five feet from the portal of the Thompson tunnel three and a half feet of ore was crosscut, assaying $35.86 per ton. This ore is in a new vein containing considerable marcasite. The work will continue under the superintendent of Angus McLeod.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles and for the very good reason that the cause is internal. Circulation in affected parts, veins are flabby and bowel walls weakened. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation, send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatment can't give lasting relief.

J. J. Leonhardt, M.D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named it PILE-REMOVER, and it has proven successful in thousands of cases—so successful that now PILE-REMOVER is sold by druggists under a money back guarantee. It is a harmless, pleasant, easy to take, and can always be found at MacFarlane Drug Company, who will promptly refund the purchase price if you are dissatisfied. (Adv.)

Coastal Tug Was Origin of Weird Radio Message

Explanations of the mysterious radio message received by Miss M. P. Paine of Royal Oak last Thursday night and published Saturday night, were forthcoming shortly after the publication of The Times.

One of the operators at the Gonzales wireless station solved the problem at once. The call was from "Tug B.B.M." to the station at Mary Island. Due to slight distortion, Miss Paine had her message twisted into "Mir-iss"—this is Doug, B.B.M. calling. Instead of "Mary Island"—this is Tug B.B.M. calling.

Many of the tugs on the coast are now using radio for communication and it is evident that it was one such message the Royal Oak listener received.

Chamber Entertains Tourists on Tuesday

Another concert has been arranged on Tuesday by the tourist group of the Chamber of Commerce for the entertainment of Winter visitors. The Co-Optimist Comedy Company, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Legge-Willis, will again entertain with one of their dramatic playlets. The playlet will be preceded by a musical concert provided by students of the Columbia School of Music. This will comprise an interesting programme of vocal, violin and piano solos and duets in which the following pupil-artists will take part: Misses Beth Graham, M. Phillips, Dorothy Hartree, Isabella Mildenhall.
